Shorter Peals would mean Lowering the Standard

WHEN the article by "Rebellious" advocating the shortening of peals was selected, the Editor expected that some pertinent letters on the subject would be received. So far no reader has written supporting the views of "Rebellious."

R. C. Stevens points out that peals today are cheaper and easier to obtain than 50 years ago. Transport facilities are far better and towers which were considered inaccessible without a good deal of walking now receive many visitors because of the motor car and public transport.

"Rebellious" has said that three hours' ringing is too much for the public ear. He has, however, mentioned that many towers have had to install some form of sound control. This can be done in such a way that the bells can be practically inaudible outside, and yet with a slight adjustment, inside the belfry, the bells can be made to sound and drown the entire parish, if desired. This question of disturbing the public can be overcome if the local ringers have their interests at heart.

On the question of length Mr. Stevens says: "Our friend questions why we stick to our forefathers' tradition of 5,000 changes for a peal. Surely a standard was set when peals first started, and ever since that date we have kept to that standard. Are we now to lower the standard set by these people? I trust not. It is my opinion that if people want to ring a shorter touch, they are at liberty to do so. As a peal ringer myself, however, I am very much against dropping our standards. Let the peal remain at a minimum of 5,000 changes, or, dare I say, lengthen it so that the peal is even more sacred than it is now."

Mr. Stevens concludes with this point: "If a peal is to be regarded as anything over 1,260 changes, as suggested, it will in some cases lower the standard of striking. A band will put up with bad ringing for this time, but very few people will ram a less experienced ringer through 5,000 changes."

Samuel J. Harris, of Wigston, Leicester, adds a touch of humour by a postscript: "It seems as if your sacred cow has turned out to be so much 'bull'!" He makes some good points as follows: "This is not the first time this subject has been broached, but isn't the attitude just typical of this day and age? Oh, yes! let's cut down the length and we shall all be in the peal columns without having to do any graft; in fact we shall have practically got something for nothing!"

"I would be so bold as to suggest that the writer of the article has practically answered himself. He goes into details of his gliding achievements for which he is to be congratulated. Let me ask him if he would be satisfied with having gained his 'Silver C' with a couple of 'hops' and a circuit from a winch launch. Of course he wouldn't. So why then lower his ringing standards which have been set and maintained for 200 years? I personally would never subscribe to this lowering; I prefer to earn my peals."

Robert C. Kippin, of Cove, Farnborough, who describes himself as "one of the many selfish peal ringers accused of annoying the general public," gives a logical answer to "Rebellious." He writes:

"Firstly, let us get the facts straight. True, the majority of towers are in built-up areas, but most of the towers at which peals are regularly rung are either so situated that the sound of the bells does not annoy, or have efficient sound control.

"Secondly, the general public dislike 'touch' ringing more than peal ringing since a continuous noise can become more acceptable to the ear than an intermittent one. Also, the standard of striking in peals is generally far higher than in touches, especially at ringing meetings, where the general standard of striking is appalling.

"Why do we ring peals? Not because it is a feat of endurance, as your correspondent suggests, but because it is the only way that really good ringing can be achieved in many cases. Agreed, 5,000 is an arbitrary number of changes to select as the minimum; when you come to think of it 6,000 or 7,000 would have been just as good. But to fix our 'peal' standard at 720 or 1,260 changes would be to defeat the object of the Exercise, since it is often after the first thousand changes of a peal that the best ringing occurs, especially on an unfamiliar ring of bells.

"What would happen if 'peal' ringing were restricted as is suggested? The best ringers, deprived of their good ringing, would soon drift away from the Exercise, and the Exercise, weakened by the loss of their best ringers, would eventually collapse. So, you see, peal ringing is a very necessary evil if the ringing Exercise is to continue in being at all.

"As far as 'The Ringing World' is concerned the reason that peals take up four times as much room as quarter peals is that the striking is usually four times as good!

"Finally, may I suggest that 'Rebellious' would be better employed ringing a few more peals rather than filling up valuable space in our paper with abstruse questions. The more peals you ring the more you enjoy them."

Queen Mother Present at Aldgate Rehallowing

QUEEN ELIZABETH the Queen Mother, the Lord Mayor of London (Sir Lionel Denny), the Bishop of London and the Archdeacon of London were among the congregation at St. Botolph's, Aldgate, on November 8th for the rehallowing of the church, which was badly damaged by an unexplained fire in August, 1965, and the restoration of the bells, which had been silent for eight years.

The work on the bells was substantial. The front four were cast by Thomas Lester in 1744 and the others also came from the Whitechapel Foundry of Lester and Pack. The sixth bell did not respond to tuning and had to be recast. All the canons were removed and new fittings provided. The existing oak frame, which is over 200 years old, has been replaced by an iron frame hung at a lower level to combat the oscillation, which was notorious.

The contract has been undertaken by the Whitechapel Foundry, the report on the work necessary being prepared by Mr. William Hughes. An innovation to enable the bells to be rung on week-days by electrical motivation has been designed by Mr. Douglas Hughes, the apparatus being set to ring Stedman Triples. The rehangings of the bells was undertaken by Mr. W. Theobald.

RINGING PLANS

Ringings before the service was under the direction of Mr. Philip Corby, and those taking part were Mrs. Corby, Miss Colgate, Messrs. John Rock, E. A. Barnett, Alan Frost, W. Williams, J. Phillips, J. G. M. Prior and Alan Tubbs. It included four-spliced and, as the distinguished visitors approached Aldgate, Stedman Triples. It is hoped to ring the bells each Sunday for the 10 a.m. Communion service, the arrangements being in the hands of Mr. P. A. Corby. On two Sundays a month he is hoping to have College Youths bands and other offers would be welcome.

There were two processions, the first being the Lord Mayor's headed by the City Marshal and including Common Councilmen, Sheriffs and Alderman of the Ward.

Her Majesty and her suite were timed to arrive five minutes later. The Queen Mother was accompanied by Ruth Lady Fermay and Captain Peter Norman. Preceded by the churchwardens, Her Majesty processed along the aisle with the Bishop of London (the Rt. Rev. R. Stopford). Behind them came the Rector (the Rev. Derek Harbord) and the Archdeacon of London (the Ven. Martin Sullivan).

Six hymns were sung during the service, the singing being led by the Renatus Harris organ of 1676, which has been rebuilt as part of the restoration work. The first lesson was read by the Alderman of the Ward, Sir Bernard Waley-Cohen, a former Lord Mayor, who launched an appeal in 1964 to get the bells ringing again. This lesson was King Solomon's great prayer at the dedication of the Temple. The second was read by the Archdeacon and the prayers offered by the Rector.

SILKEN ROPES FROM ELIZABETH I

The Bishop of London, in his sermon, outlined the history of the church, stating that a church had stood on that site since Saxon times and there were three other churches in London dedicated to St. Botolph, who was a Saxon saint. The Bishop mentioned the links between the Church and the first Queen Elizabeth. In 1553 Queen Mary and Princess Elizabeth entered the City through Aldgate and paid 4d. to the ringers. On the Palm Sunday following, Princess Elizabeth was imprisoned in the Tower, and when she became Queen in 1558 she did not forget the bells of Aldgate as it appeared in the last century.

that brought so much pleasure to her, and presented to the tower silken bell ropes.

The building escaped the Great Fire but in its turn became ruinous by 1740. There was no alternative but to rebuild and the architect was George Dance, the architect for the Mansion House.

As to the work of St. Botolph's today, the Bishop said it was there the City and the East End of London met. In their crypt they had developed work on four evenings a week for homeless men, and also two years ago he inaugurated a series of weekly lunch hour services conducted by a Free Church minister for Nonconformists in the City.

Speaking about the bells, the Bishop said that when the appeal was launched the Queen headed the subscription list and the City Corporation made a valuable and generous gift. The Whitechapel Foundry, which had looked after the bells since 1570, was commissioned to carry out the work.

"We thank God for many things; not merely for a building with so much history that has been restored. In this service we rededicate the building for the worship of God and we thank Him for all the skill of the craftsmen that has gone into the restoration and we pray that God will rehallow this building for His service."

The bells rang out again as the distinguished guests left the church and went to Sir John Cass Technical College for tea. Here a number of presentations were made to the Queen Mother and included Mr. William Hughes and Mr. W. Theobald. Among those present was Mrs. Hughes, the widow of the late Mr. A. A. Hughes, who was a churchwarden of St. Botolph's.

OSWY STREET CUP COMES HOME

THE fifth Oswy Street contest was held at West Retford on October 22nd. All the eight teams found difficulty with the odd-struck bells and faults were plentiful.

The rules of the contest had been drastically revised by the District Committee to cope with the record entry from four counties. Each band rang a practice piece of 72 changes or less, a test piece of 360 changes and, apart from preliminary rounds, no other ringing at all. To further simplify the contest, penalty faults were entirely removed (under the old rules these could be acquired in no less than three distinct ways).

East Retford had to ring first, as three of their band were tea ladies. Their unreadiness was the conductor's fault; he had spent so long putting the bells to rights in the morning that he was late home for dinner. Judge's comment: "Too many clips, not enough rounds before starting the test piece. 115 faults."

Shelford followed with more Oxford Treble Bob, but in much finer style. "Some chips—not a bad effect altogether. 60 faults."

In the absence of Warsop, Derby Cathedral "A" rang with common consent, as they had a meeting to attend. Cambridge Surprise, rung very slowly; a peal at the same rate would have taken 3½ hours. "Rather high. 134 faults."

The first closed-lead ringing of the day was provided by Roughtown, who rang the favourite method for the contest. "Scrappy in places. 115 faults."

Derby Cathedral "B" rang Plain Bob and "never really got going. 174 faults." Back to Oxford for Friezland, with closed leads; "Basic rhythm O.K. Faults frequent. 106 faults." Fast Plain Bob from Sawley, whose test piece was a big improvement on their practice: "Good rhythm. Chipping frequent. 83 faults."

Most were at tea when the winners, Warsop, rang their 360 of Oxford. "A pleasure to listen to," said the judge, Harold Chant, and gave them 50 faults.

When announcing the results, he said that the ringing had been very interesting to listen to though by no means up to the standard of the recent contest at Gamston.

Accepting the cup from its donor, Mr. Benjamin Street, Herbert T. Rooke, conductor of the Warsop band, said what general satisfaction it would give to Nottinghamshire ringers that the cup had come home at last. In previous contests the winners had always been Yorkshire or Derbyshire teams. Oswy Street himself had been a fine ringer and had done much for ringing in and around Retford. The cup presented by his son served not only to perpetuate his memory but also as an incentive to ringers to improve and be more critical of their standards.

A fine tea was prepared in the Ebsworth Hall by the North Notts Tea Committee and helpers. A raffle for the Diocesan Bell Repair Fund realised £2 5s.

The District chairman, Mr. Harold Denman, expressed his delight at the increased popularity of the contest and hoped for even more entries next year. He moved the votes of thanks. H. P.

RIVALRY BETWEEN ESSEX AND SUFFOLK

FRIENDLY rivalry between Essex and Suffolk in multi-method Minor ringing was a theme at the 13th annual dinner of the Essex Association at the Shire Hall, Chelmsford, on October 29th. The Master (Mr. R. G. Heazel), who was accompanied by his wife, presided over a company of 120. Guests of honour were Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Pipe, the Archdeacon of Colchester and Southend and Miss Welch. Also on the top table were Mr. and Mrs. H. Turner and Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Clark.

Following an excellent meal, the toast of "The Queen" was proposed by the Master, who then proceeded to give the toast of "The Church." He spoke with deep regret of the death of the Bishop of Colchester, the Rt. Rev. F. D. V. Narborough, and mentioned that he had represented the Association at the funeral. On a much more joyous occasion in his capacity as Master he had attended the service in York Minster when Eric Gordon, Provost of Chelmsford Cathedral, was appointed Bishop of Sodor and Man. A suitable response to the toast of "The Church" was made by the Rev. W. N. Welch, Archdeacon of Southend.

The toast of "The Essex Association" was proposed by Mr. George W. Pipe, Master of the Suffolk Guild. Mr. Pipe spoke of the long-standing friendly relationship between Essex and Suffolk ringers. He ventured to comment that possibly one of the reasons for being invited to the Essex dinner was so that certain Essex ringers could get some hot news on how to ring Multi-Minor, following upon the Suffolk Guild's feat of ringing Spliced Minor in 148 methods, beating the previous record held by the Essex Association by three methods.

Replying, Mr. Donald E. Cobb, Master of the South Western Division, congratulated the Suffolk Guild on their recent Spliced Minor accomplishment, but pointed out that the conductor of that series of peals was an Essex man, who had learned to ring in an Essex belfry. The theme of Mr. Cobb's speech was preparing and planning for the future. He spoke of the urgency to recruit and teach new ringers and appealed to all to do their share of fulfilling the task ahead. He hoped that in a few years' time he would be able to come back and speak to a company much greater than at that day's gathering and acclaim the Essex Association second to none.

Mr. Andrew S. Hudson, Master of the South Eastern Division, in proposing the toast to "The Life Members, Guests and Artistes," thanked the life members elected in 1966 for their loyalty to the Association and hoped that they would continue their membership for many years. He thanked the guests of honour, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Pipe and recalled that at a Christmas social in Suffolk where Mr. Pipe was giving a film show on Australian ringing, his impressions of Australia being upside down were quickly confirmed when the first slide of the evening showed a band of ringers standing upside down on the ceiling with the ropes going through the floor. The Glee-Ward Singers, who provided popular tunes in between the speeches, were also thanked by Mr. Hudson. The Ven. A. V. G. Cleall, Archdeacon of Colchester, replied for the guests.

With the speeches over, everyone was free to renew old and make new acquaintances. There was general agreement that the 13th annual dinner was undoubtedly the best.

North Muskham Captain's 70th Birthday

Charlie Copp, the genial tower captain at North Muskham, Notts, took part in his 70th birthday peal at North Muskham on November 4th. He rang his first peal at his own tower on January 7th, 1950, and the birthday peal was his 75th. Very few ringers who start as late in life continue over the years as Charlie has done.

OBITUARY

MR. W. H. HEWETT

Appreciations were ably expressed to the memory of William H. Hewett, of Westminster, in our last issue.

Biographical details have now been received from John Euston. Bill was born at Camberwell on June 4th, 1886, and died on October 30th, 1966. He attended St. George's Church and School and learned to ring with Jim Davies. When Jim became tower secretary of St. Margaret's he recruited Bill as a junior to St. Margaret's Society about 1905 and he had been a regular ringer there ever since.

His first peal was at St. George's, Camberwell, on April 21st, 1906, and his first at St. Margaret's—Stedman Caters—on July 27th, 1907. From 1916 Bill was in charge at St. Margaret's and the Abbey bells. At 6 a.m. on November 13th, 1918, he was called to prepare the Abbey bells (then only six) to signal the end of World War I. He collected a band and they rang at 11 a.m. Later he organised the first touches on the restored and augmented ring at the Abbey.

Throughout all the years Bill managed to keep together a friendly voluntary band at St. Margaret's, and in 1963 he and Reuben Sanders were each presented with a cheque by the Rector (Canon M. Stancliffe) in recognition of their "valued services" to the Church.

On Thursday evening, November 3rd, his body was received into St. Margaret's Church by the Rector (Canon M. Stancliffe), who conducted the service, and in a short address commended to the many ringers present Bill's service to the Church. A course of Grandsire Caters was rung by Mrs. F. Hairs 1-2, W. G. Wilson 3-4, E. A. Barnett 5-6, J. Euston 7-8, F. Hairs 9-10.

Among those present were Mesdames E. Deal, E. Davis, E. Sanders and Stiffell, Mr. and Mrs. F. Hairs, Mr. and Mrs. G. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. W. Oatway, Mr. and Mrs. N. Bagworth, Mr. and Mrs. R. How, Mr. and Mrs. H. Oakshett, Miss V. Dupré, Miss H. Maltman, Messrs E. Barnett, E. A. Barnett, A. W. Coles, H. Clark, F. Cullum, H. Audsley, J. Marks, A. Mason, B. Baker, W. Grice, P. Spice, C. Kippin, F. Darby, J. Prior, J. Phillips, J. Lott, R. Overington, J. Rea, W. Grainger, F. Matthews, H. Rogers, M. Meyer, W. Wilson, C. Otley, T. Hawkins, E. Peet, E. Furbank and G. Parsons. St. Margaret's was represented by Miss F. Higginson (secretary), Mr. Sanders (treasurer), Mr. S. Sanders and Mr. A. Elliott (verger).

The interment was at Camberwell New Cemetery the next day.

GEORGE PULLINGER

Appreciations

As were many members of the Exercise, I was shocked to hear of George's sudden demise. I knew George in the '20's when I was a schoolboy and he an attendance officer. He carried out this job with meticulous efficiency and soon struck fear into the local boys, wrongly, as I later found out. To him I was always Master Hill.

As a choirboy I saw George regularly in his place at least once each Sunday after ringing for service. With the breaking of my voice I was invited to try my hand at ringing. It was the late George Grant who taught me to handle a bell. My first introduction to change ringing was when the hand met one short for Grandsire for a special service. I was put on the treble knowing little about it; George steered me through whilst keeping most of the band as well.

After leaving Bishopstoke I cycled to meetings all over the county with George, being pushed into this or that method always with the warning: "If George Williams is there he will want to know if you have looked it up." This psychology worked.

I was tutored in conducting and at 16 called 5,040 Grandsire Doubles and the next year 5,040 Triples (Holt's ten-part) with a local band. George never liked peal ringing—the strain was too much for his one arm—but he was always the first to stand in for someone's "first" and to assist a learner in some way.

Once you got to know him, the dour impression he gave soon went and he was a generous and good-hearted man and in all

Here are two handy touches of Stedman Caters. The second is only a simple extension of the first; and, indeed, working from this opening course, it is not difficult to construct a number of longer touches, all leading to 312456978 and then home, as shown here.

The homing course may, owing to the number of calls, seem complicated, but this is not so. The bob at 6 holds the 6th in 8ths place just long enough to enable the 9th to come up to it. With 68 behind it is a simple matter to keep calling bobs until the 9th comes from the front and reaches 6-7 up. The ear will recognise the termination 968 and that will be the signal for a plain six. The bells will run round two rows after 315274968, so that the six-end 312456789 (shown in the touch) will not be reached.

There is another calling that will return 312456978 to rounds, and that is bobs at 3, 4, 5, 6, 8. This will be two sixes longer than the one given here and will not provide such a musical ending, but it is useful to keep in mind as an alternative. E.C.S.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD German Nurses at Chertsey District Meeting

In spite of unpleasant weather, a very happy meeting was held at Walton on November 5th. Canon Evans, himself a ringing member, gave the 30-odd ringers present a warm welcome, and the excellent tea warmed the inner ringer. We were pleased to have two German student nurses as our guests at service and tea; they originally came to rub brasses but were caught up in the Chertsey District "scrum."

New officers nominated for 1967 were Mr. C. J. Webb, Ringing Master; Mr. J. F. M. Maybrey, Assistant Ringing Master; Mr. R. Caporn, District secretary.

Mr. Maybrey expressed the thanks of the District to Mr. R. Collins and Mr. D. Blows for all their work on behalf of the District. Both are moving away—Mr. Blows to West Hartlepool and Mr. Collins to Farnham.

New members elected were the Rev. T. Tyler, Messrs J. Pegley, L. Pirrie and A. Attfield, of Walton. Mr. M. J. Bew was elected a non-resident member.

Meetings for 1967 will be: February 25th, Ottershaw; April 22nd, Horsell; July 8th, Send and Ockham; September 2nd, Old Woking; November 4th, Weybridge. R.C.

ways a thorough Christian. The Exercise, the Church and the county is the poorer for the loss of a man of his principles.

JOHN HILL.

G. K. D. writes: "George Pullinger was one of the last of the older members of the Winchester Guild, before Guildford became a separate Guild. A frequent visitor to our part of the county, he was a lifelong friend of Frank Knapp a pre-war captain of the Kingsclere band and took part in the first peal on these bells—Cambridge Major in 1929, conducted by the late George Williams.

"Whenever we met he showed a lively interest in local ringing. His early years were spent in the gardens of Stargroves, East Woodhay, and his former employer, Sir Frederick Ardagh, has just died at the age of 93. He will be missed by the many who knew him well."

Letters to the Editor

MR. R. B. SMITH REPLIES TO CRITICS

Dear Sir,—It was not my intention in Part VI of my article on Plain Bob to "direct at a privileged minority" as Mr. Jackson suggests. The title of the part was "The influence of Plain Bob on other methods" and quite honestly I believe that the influence on Doubles and Minor is not significant. This does not mean that I consider Doubles and Minor ringing to be insignificant; I am one of those who learned to ring at a six-bell tower. The fact that we only had six bells did not stop six of the band taking part in peals of Cambridge Maximus, and many more have rung peals on eight and ten bells. If, as Mr. Jackson suggests, most people are not prepared to look further than the ends of their noses then they have only themselves to blame.

Mr. Jackson suggested that the examples I gave did not fit in with tradition; they were not intended to! There is no point in writing about learning Plain Bob unless you can show why it should be learned thoroughly early in one's change ringing career. Little Bob and Double Oxford are backwaters in which people can stagnate; it is so easy to become entangled with the weeds and forget that the aim of most ringers is to be competent in the standard methods.

I would further point out that the title "For the beginner" includes many people who do not consider themselves to be "beginners" in the strict sense of the word. We are always beginning new phases in ringing, and Part VI of my article is intended for those who are progressing from Plain Bob to other methods. In this respect each of the articles is intended for people at different stages of learning.

With reference to writing an article on Doubles and Minor ringing, I would be quite happy to do this, but there are many people who are better qualified to write on this than I am.

Referring to the letter from Mr. Segar, I would like to make the following points:

(1) He omitted to say that his motion before the Central Council in 1956 deploring the use of X for bobs at 5 in Double Norwich was rejected.

(2) His reference to use of lead-head and lead-end can be explained in the following manner:

It is generally accepted by ringers that when the treble leads full at the end of a block of changes (in a treble dominated method) the backstroke lead is called the lead-end. The composer, however, finds it more convenient to call this the lead-head (generally speaking). As long as this is understood by both groups it does not matter terribly, as in "spliced" ringing the lead-head and the lead-end are one and the same row. In ringing LXL, for example, the row 14263857 is the end of a block of London and the beginning of a block of Cambridge or Superlative (sorry about the X!).

I am pleased to have had the comments from Messrs. Jackson, Segar and others, which reveal that we have the same object in mind.—Yours sincerely,

ROBERT B. SMITH.

BOURTON-ON-THE-WATER

The bells of St Lawrence's, Bourton-on-the-Water, are not now available for ringing owing to defects in the chiming apparatus. An announcement will be made in "The Ringing World" when the bells are again available for peals and visiting bands.

BELLS IN STOCKHOLM

Dear Sir,—With reference to Mr. Brian Austin's comments in your issue of November 11th, if he has access to "The Ringing World" of August 18th, 1961, he will see a brief account of the bells of Skarpnacks Church (four at the time with a tenor weighing about two tons—have they now been augmented to six?) and of a programme of visits I arranged for the then leader of the ringers there, Mr. A. V. Jakobsson, who came to this country under the auspices of the British Council to study change ringing. Until recently I had a number of photographs of the tower and bells, which are counter-balanced to make ringing easier, although the tenor requires two men to grip the wheel. As Mr. Austin says, the bells are hung in the open at the top of the tower; apparently the architect decreed that they should not be covered in, despite pleas to the contrary. Architects—perhaps I should say non-ringing ones—are evidently the same the world over!

Amongst other functions, Mr. Jakobsson attended one of our District meetings and replied in excellent English to the welcome he received. His knowledge of the language was derived from school only. I doubt if many of us would care to make a speech in a foreign language in such circumstances! —Yours sincerely,

BLUE LINE F.C.H.

Dear Sir,—Mr. Beech writes about his confusion at some length and mentions the blue line f.c.h. If he and other purchasers of this book will write to me about their difficulties I shall be pleased to help them. Their comments may be helpful if another edition is needed. At present Mr. Garner-Hayward regrets he cannot tell me the number in stock.

There is no statement in page 1 having any resemblance to the one Mr. Beech professes to quote. Will he please read it again and write to me direct?—Yours sincerely,

JOHN SEGAR.

TIPS FOR VISITORS TO THE WEST COUNTRY

Dear Sir,—I have just ended a five months tour in the West Country. I should like to extend my sincere gratitude to the ringers of South West Devon for the wonderful reception I received at every one of the many towers I visited. I was taken on many outings and feel most grateful towards the call change ringers who patiently suffered my striking and most apologetic towards the method fraternity for my crossing over in two peal attempts.

May I give a warning to touring bands planning to visit the West Country? Closed lead call changes are rung in the majority of towers, with every effort made towards perfecting striking. Method ringing is regarded as an unnecessary complication. Bad striking is not tolerated when it could be improved by simpler ringing, and many up-country touring bands have made method ringing become unpopular by striking badly. Devon men must wince when they see reported "Ringing ranged from eight-spiced down to call changes."

Ringers when requesting bells for a peal must mention the length of time the bells will be heard. In the West Country a peal denotes any length of ringing. Three hours of bad striking is not soon forgotten when only one hour was expected.—Yours faithfully,

DONALD A. BEDFORD.

ATTEMPT FOR 25,088 PLAIN BOB MAJOR

Dear Sir,—By kind permission of Mr. Paul Taylor an attempt will be made on Saturday, December 3rd, 1966, commencing as soon as possible after 9 a.m., at the Loughborough Bell Foundry, to ring 25,088 Plain Bob Major.

The band will stand as follows: James W. Belshaw (Yardley, Birmingham) 1, Maurice F. Edwards (Yardley, Birmingham) 2, Alan R. Baldock (Eastbourne) 3, George Pluckrose (Lynham) 4, Ronald R. Warford (Selby) 5, Ronald J. Snack (Amersham) 6, Robin Brown (Rothwell Yorks) 7, C. Barrie Dove (Leeds), conductor 8.—Yours faithfully,

Leeds, Yorkshire

MORE ABOUT MORDEN BELLS

Dear Sir,—Evidently Mr. Amey chooses to miss my points about his band's activities at Morden and to poke fun instead. But the facts and injustices remain; the ringers of that quarter peal trod not on my toes, but heavily on the toes of Mr. Amey's colleagues in the Wimborne Branch of the S.D.G.—and then making it worse by taking a lot of credit, in their "Ringing World" article, which did not belong to them.

The tenor was as loose on the stock alter Mr. Amey's attention as it was before. (Why else would the ringers, who to my knowledge visited Morden after Mr. Amey's band, have confined their ringing to the front four?) I dislike Mr. Amey's implication that I withheld information of any defects which I knew about from the Rector. I did not, although surely it would have been fair to assume that the S.D.G.'s belfry inspector had mentioned the state of the tenor when reporting on the bells at the Rector's request. It is sad that the Rector apparently failed to pass on the information when giving permission to ring.

Morden bells by the way, are of some interest and include two pre-Reformation castings:

Treble.—Added by Warner, 1890.

Second.—By James Wells of Aldbourne, 1807.

Third.—Probably 15th century.

Fourth.—Circa 1400 (a lovely casting but poor in tone).

Tenor.—By Thomas Purdue, 1663.

The bells were tuned and rehung in the present two-tier frame by the Warner foundry in 1890. The crack in the crown of the tenor was probably started then and has spread since, no doubt to ringing loose on the headstock. There is surely little point in recasting the bell in the present circumstances. Its tone has certainly been affected but there is still some resonance—and the other four bells are not particularly musical.—Yours faithfully,

CHRISTOPHER DALTON.

Note.—This correspondence is now closed.—Ed.

Sussex Meeting Disapproves New Heading

At the Northern Division quarterly meeting at Lindfield on November 5th the question of practice meetings was discussed at some length but failed to reach a decision as to their usefulness. The matter was left to the annual Divisional meeting in February.

Under "any other business" the new heading of "The Ringing World" was treated to some criticism and a resolution was passed regretting the alteration and suggesting a return to the original design.

The service was taken by the Rev. Michael Stedman, who welcomed the ringers and gave an interesting address. The local captain (Mr. A. J. Drew) was thanked for his help with the arrangements. The ringing proved to be a little above the usual meeting standard. One visitor who was not very welcome was fog!

FOURTH BRISTOL FESTIVAL

THE fourth Bristol Festival of Ringing was held on October 29th and, as has now become traditional the day dawned with bright sunshine, which persisted throughout the day.

A bright and early start was made when the bells of the first two towers were raised at 9.15 a.m., despite being advertised as 9.30. It is estimated that about 50 people were present at each of the first two towers, which are situated at extreme ends of the city. Conversation with the multitudes revealed that some people had left home the preceding evening and stayed the night in Bristol. Journeys had been made from Gloucestershire, Somerset, Devon, Cornwall, Kent, South Wales, Wiltshire, Staffordshire, Leicestershire, Derbyshire, Dorset, Oxfordshire and Yorkshire and probably other parts of England and Wales.

Bristol's amateur bellhanger, John Slater, had been working to a very tight schedule during preceding weeks in order to put Horfield—Bristol's only ring of five—back on the list of ringable towers. Work was completed the day before and scores took advantage of this, the second occasion that the bells had been rung since 1944—and a very pleasant little five they are, too!

CONGESTED

The late morning towers were so congested that it became a matter of two minute rounds or 40 Grandsire Doubles and out, in order to avoid sending people away without a ring. There was a good cacophony of sound on College Green as the service touch of Stedman Triples mingled with ringing at the Lord Mayor's Chapel—only a couple of hundred yards away—where ringing had extended beyond the advertised time.

A short, well-attended service was held in the Cathedral at noon, which included a short but very appropriate address by the Dean, the Very Rev D E. W. Harrison, about the origins of ringing and reference to bells in the Bible.

The organising committee had learned by bitter experience that it is not worth all the work and worry to arrange a luncheon, so everyone was left to make their own arrangements. The afternoon gave a choice of three routes—a country tour and other tours on the west and east sides of the city. The country tour proved surprisingly popular, which will be useful to bear in mind for the fifth festival.

For those who wanted a change from ringing, visits had been arranged to the Cathedral central tower which houses four ancient bells in a massive wooden ten-bell frame, and also to the University tower to see the 9½ ton "Great George." Unfortunately the lights could not be switched on at the latter so it had to be viewed by torchlight.

PUBLICITY

Tony Bennett—the festival publicity officer—had by no means been idle, and as a result of his efforts comprehensive reports of the festival were published in local newspapers. In addition, Mark Puckle, of the B.B.C., recorded an interview with Philip Gray, which was broadcast on the Home Service Radio Newsreel at 7 p.m. on the Saturday evening. The programme also recorded short recordings of ringing at Westbury, Horfield and Redcliffe. Television cameras were in evidence at SS Philip and Jacob's, where a film was taken of three people ringing the tower bells, and Dick Bowden ringing the model bell which is hung on the wall.

In the evening a room had been hired upstairs in the Crown and Dove in the Horsefair, Bristol. Again this was well attended, with over 100 people enjoying the evening's light entertainment and renewing acquaintance.

The three foot long hunting horn, a relic of "Wratten's Wringers" peal tour, was produced to herald the arrival of Mr E. F. Hancock and part of his family, who gave a demonstration of tune ringing on handbells. Before the handbells were put away a plain course of Grandsire Caters was rung by Reg Hooper 1-2, Jim Taylor 3-4, Albert Tyler 5-6, Ralph Edwards 7-8 and Jennie Taylor 9-10, which left everyone with no doubt in their minds that Ralph prefers 8-7-9-70 roll-ups to 7-8-9-10's!!!

Next, Nick Simon held everyone's fascinated attention by attempting to play a course of Grandsire Royal on the piano. With clockwork precision he proceeded as far as the eighth lead when, unfortunately, his concentration broke. However, this remarkable performance left everyone speculating as to how it was done.

PRESS-UPS

A return bout of press-ups between Bristol and Leicester was the next item on the agenda. Bristol being represented by Richard Sweet (formerly known as Cap'n Crunch) and Leicester by their tenor king, Kingsley Mason. Coats were removed and the floor was cleared for the grand contest. Over 100 referees echoed a resounding count as both figures strained muscle and sinew, which culminated in a deafening roar as Kingley collapsed at 24. Thus Richard retained the crown he had gained a few months earlier in another Bristol hostelry. Shouts of "Send for Cannon" were heard.

At 9.30 Philip Gray, chairman of the Bristol City ringers, gave a warm welcome to all who had supported the festival, and thanked the organisers—John Hunt and Richard Sweet—for their efforts. A precedent had been set at the previous festival whereby an award was made to the person who had grabbed the most towers during the day. Starting at 20, and decreasing in Dutch auction style, a show of hands was asked for, which revealed that this year's top grabber was (surprisingly enough!) Mr Barrie Dove with 15, though it was later learned that he rang at one or two churches instead of attending the service and sticking to the advertised programme. Mr. Dove walked the length of the room, accompanied by some appropriate applause, to receive the prize of a fountain pen. He also corrected what he considers a vulgar term by saying that he does not grab towers he visits them.

PRIZE WINNERS

A raffle had been held during the evening, the proceeds of which were to go towards the £9 it had cost to arrange the day's events. The first prize of a bottle each of sherry and ginger cordial stayed in Bristol—going to Mr. E. F. Hancock of Redcliffe. Barrie Dove was once again in the limelight as he collected the second prize of a bottle of sherry. The third prize—a bottle of ginger cordial—went to Mrs. Parker, of Ubley, Somerset.

Guest celebrity, Bill Hibbert, of Appleton fame, was retrieved from the "Ladies" to start the community singing by giving his rendering of "The Farmer's Boy." Singing continued until almost midnight, terminating with a Worcestershire folk song and a recitation concerning a certain Arctic Maiden. We were warned to leave the premises swiftly and silently as a party of policemen had booked bed and breakfast for the night!

So ended what must surely be the most enjoyable and most successful Bristol Festival yet. It is difficult to gauge with any accuracy how many ringers participated during the day in one way or another, but a conservative estimate is considered to be around the 200 mark. We said in the first place "the more the merrier," and we were proved right.

LAST YEAR'S LEADING PEAL RINGERS MARRY

ON Saturday, October 15th, the marriage took place at St. Ambrose's Church, Bristol, between Gillian M. Hussey, the Ringing Master at St. Ambrose's, and D John Hunt, the Ringing Master of Bristol Cathedral and popular secretary of the Bristol City Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association.

Both Gill and John learned to ring at St. Ambrose's, and it has been a joy to see their friendship, which has stood the test of time and many peals together, blossom forth and finally reach this happy state of marriage.

The church had been decorated most beautifully for the occasion by Mrs. Hussey and her helpers and it was pleasantly full of ringers and friends for the service, which was conducted by the Rev. Roger O. Fry.

The bride was given away by her father, Mr. F. R. Hussey, secretary of the St. Ambrose's band. She was dressed in a full-length gown of white velvet with a train and a three-quarter length veil held in place with a diamond tiara, and carried a bouquet of cream roses and tangerine carnations. She was attended by three bridesmaids in dresses of tangerine velvet, and a page boy. The best man was Mr. Richard W. Sweet, and the organist, another old ringing friend, Dr. Tony Bennett.

The bridegroom and best man with many of the guests joined in the ringing before the service, but the service touch was by St. Ambrose's band afterwards. As they left the church the happy couple were greeted with an arch of handbells and showered with confetti, rice and computer clippings.

The reception was held at the Kingswood Hotel and attended by 70 guests. The honeymoon was spent in London. They attempted two quarter peals the following day which unfortunately came to grief, probably due to post wedding nerves. However, later in the week they succeeded in scoring a couple of peals and in doing a little grabbing in the City.

As the wedding ceremony commenced the Bristol University Society started for a peal at Bristol Cathedral and scored a peal of New Cambridge as their wedding tribute, and as the happy couple sped off in the direction of London eight old friends returned to the tower at St. Ambrose's and rang a spanking peal of Yorkshire conducted by Tudor Edwards. The band were very sorry that the Rev. Roger O. Fry, who had arranged the peal, could not ring because of a torn ligament in his wrist. However he gave the band moral support by listening to the peal and joining them afterwards at the bride's house, where they were entertained most handsomely.

The local band too, showed the esteem with which they held John and Gillian by presenting them with a set of door chimes and on the Sunday following the wedding by ringing a quarter peal of Bob Major prior to Evening-song.

NATIONAL POLICE GUILD

The annual general meeting of the National Guild of Police Ringers was held at Leicester, a favourite meeting place in bygone years, on October 29th. Ringing was available at the Churches of St. John the Divine, All Saints and St. Mary de Castro and also at the Cathedral.

Lunch was enjoyed at the City Police headquarters in London Road, and the guests included the Assistant Chief Constable (Mr. J. R. Webster) and the Rev. J. Hughes.

At the business meeting which followed lunch, Cheltenham was selected for the next annual general meeting on September 23rd, 1967. The day proved to be most enjoyable.

GRAND OLD MAN of KENT MISSES HIS CENTURY

EDWARD S. RUCK, THE LAST FOUNDATION MEMBER OF K.C.A

A BRIEF announcement was made in our last issue of the passing of Edward Stephen Ruck, of Willesborough, on November 7th, within less than eight months of his century.

In the church where he had consistently and faithfully worshipped for almost half a century at Willesborough, the funeral service took place on November 11th, conducted by the Rev. G. Williams, who in his address spoke of Mr. Ruck both as a ringer and Christian. The lesson was read by the Rev. P. T. Robbins of Charing. The service concluded with the ringers' hymn, "Unchanging God who liveth," with Mr. W. P. Garner as organist.

A course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells over the open grave by Rev. P. T. Robbins 1-2, T. Sone 3-4, P. A. Corby 5-6. T. Cullingworth 7-8, after which five members of the local band, supplemented by J. Cooper of Hothfield, rang a quarter peal of St. Simon's Doubles with the bells muffled at handstroke and open at back, in recognition of their old captain's custom and belief, the muffled handstroke signifying the death of the flesh and the open backstroke acclaiming the resurrection and the life of the world to come.

In addition to those already mentioned, ringing friends present included Mr. J. Willis (vice-president of the Kent County Association), Mr. A. Berry (secretary, Ashford District), Mr. and Mrs. T. Cullingworth, Messrs T. Sone, F. Macey, L. Head, B. Baker, N. Davies and J. Marsh.

The many floral tributes included a wreath from the Kent County Association and one from the Willesborough band of ringers "In fond remembrance of our Grand Old Man."

"OLD TED"

Edward S. Ruck ("Old Ted," as he was known affectionately, and wished to be called in the latter years of his active ringing life), was born at New Romney, Kent, on June 20th, 1867; in his own words, "a yellowbelly from the Marsh."

He was the youngest son of five children of Edward Ruck of New Romney, a fellmonger by trade, who removed to Mersham, just off the Marsh, when young Ted was only a year old. His father being an able ringer and conductor, young Ted was taught to handle a bell at an early age and was only eleven years old when he first rang for Sunday service.

On May 18th, 1880, he was present at the inaugural meeting of the Kent County Association of Change Ringers and made a foundation member, an event which has proved to be of more significance than any other throughout his long and varied ringing career and for which he will be most remembered.

He rang his first peal, one of 5,120 Bob Major, at St. John the Baptist's Church, Mersham, in 1887, conducted by his father. In 1895 he married Bessie Jell, of St. Margaret's Bay, Cliffe, and settled at Mersham until 1916, when he came to Willesborough. He was the father of two children, one of whom, a daughter (Mrs. F. Newton, of Willesborough), survives. Two of his grandchildren, Molly and "Dick" Newton, he taught to ring at Willesborough. His only son, Edward John, "Jack," as he was known to friends, was the dedicated and popular choir-master and organist at Willesborough from 1927 until his death in 1952.

CAPTAIN AT WILLESBOROUGH

In August, 1930, then a sprightly 63, Ted conducted the first peal at St. Mary's, Willesborough, one of Bob Minor, just after the re-hanging and rededication of the bells, and during the ensuing years, as captain, he built up a band of young ringers, mostly boys from the choir passed on from father to son, capable of ringing many Plain and Surprise Minor methods at the outbreak of the last war. During this period, and again after the war, until his last peal at Willesborough in 1954 at the age of 87, he rang and conducted many peals at Willesborough and in the Ashford District. He was 80 when he last conducted a peal at Willesborough and "turned in" the tenor, not a heavy or awkward bell, but—all tenors need "turning in," as many young ringers discover to their dismay.

He last entered the belfry at Willesborough on the occasion of his 95th birthday, on June 20th, 1962, and rang the treble to Bob Minor. Thus ended an active ringing career of 84 years.

He had been a consistent attender at the meetings of the Ashford District and the annual general meeting of the Kent County Association and also at the meetings of the Romney Marsh and District Guild during its active years down on his home territory on the Marsh.

Although a strict disciplinarian in the belfry and no respecter of persons when the striking was not up to standard, "Old Ted" was always ready to admit when he was wrong himself. After setting his bell he would ponder for a while with his head on one side and then remark "I believe I missed," or "I believe I should have..."—and he would often seek advice from one of his pupils whom he considered to have become more knowledgeable in the art of ringing than himself.

Before ringing for morning service he never failed to walk to his pew for prayers, he never seemed to be in a hurry yet he was never late, except in unusual circumstances. By his example in so many ways "Old Ted" must have influenced for the better many persons in his long and orderly life. We thank God for the privilege of having known him for so long.

AN APPRECIATION

It was in the early 1930's, as a schoolboy, that I first became acquainted with Edward S. Ruck. He was a familiar figure in and around Willesborough as he went his rounds as a part-time insurance agent and canvasser for a local drapery store. He walked everywhere, his easy gait being recognisable at quite a distance and, on meeting or passing, a cheerful greeting from him could always be expected.

In 1934, when I first commenced ringing, I came to know him better, even though for a while our relationship was not entirely one of mutual admiration. However, he was a patient man with anyone he thought was striving to improve and as my ringing progressed, in line with a number of my schoolmates whom he was also teaching, so our friendship grew, later on to become one of deep respect.

During the war years, when I served abroad, he corresponded with me, keeping me informed of events on the "home front," and also on my excursions "down under" kept in touch with me until he was no longer able to do so. I still possess most of his letters, which invariably ended with the words "God bless you," and thus it was as if by some divine intent that these should be the last words I heard him say when, in the company of a ringing friend, I visited him at Hothfield Hospital a few weeks before his death. He was then almost blind and deaf. It was characteristic of "Old Ted," a real gentleman, one of nature's best, and a true Christian to the end. God bless him.

ANOTHER APPRECIATION

When the Kent County Association was formed at a meeting in the Chapter House at Canterbury on May 18th, 1880, the Rev. R. B. Knatchbull-Hugessen, Rector of Mersham, was elected secretary. Present at that meeting was Edward Stephen Ruck, who was to celebrate his 13th birthday on the following June 20th. His ringing career was only finally completed on November 7th, 1966, when he died at Hothfield Hospital in his 100th year.

He lived most of his life at Willesborough, the next village to Mersham, and for several years in his great old age a birthday meeting was held at Willesborough, when "Old Ted" would preside at a grand tea party with birthday cake and candles. At the last of these occasions he was helped up the belfry stairs and took the treble for a course of Bob Minor in which another of those taking part was a keen young ringer then 13 years old, who if he lives to old age will be able to recall this link with a founder member of the Kent County Association.

Soon after this "Old Ted" was taken into Hothfield Hospital and was very happy in the loving care he received. Although for the last two years or so increasing deafness and failing sight overtook him, he remained until then his usual cheerful and outspoken self. Always of a philosophical turn of mind, he would often say in these later days, "'Old Ted' is ready to go, but the Lord is not ready to take him."

His whole life was centred around a limited local area, but nevertheless his pupils were to journey to the far places of the earth. The number of ringers he taught at Willesborough is legion, and he leaves those who to this day maintain the tradition of regular and competent Sunday service ringing and loyal and cheerful service to the Church.

Another foundation member of the Association, Charles Slingsby, from nearby Aldington, died at the age of 104, and the last but one foundation member, Philip Hodgkin, of Headcorn, died in 1941, leaving "Old Ted" to carry the torch alone for another 25 years.

He was for long a member of the Kent County Association Committee and just after the war was created a vice-president in recognition of his special status as last surviving foundation member. When he was able to attend the committee meetings he could be relied upon for the provocative remark to sum up a difficult discussion, and when, later, attendance at committee meetings became impossible for him, he always sent a message of greeting with his apology for absence.

The "Young Ted" who became "Old Ted" will be remembered by the Kent County Association for the secure place he has in its history. Eighty-six-and-a-half years' membership is not a record likely to be equalled very often. We thank God for his long and useful life. May he rest in peace.

ARCHDEACONRY OF HALIFAX GUILD

About 20 members took the opportunity to ring the little-used bells of the Unitarian Church at Todmorden on November 5th.

The Rev. P. Scholfield, of South Kirby, presided over the shortest business meeting on record.

Mr. R. Senior thanked the Vicar and churchwardens for the use of the bells, the ladies for the excellent tea, and Mr. G. Cheetham, who had made all the arrangements. W. M.

BELFRY GOSSIP

We are victims of another peal hoax—at Feltham (on page 763). Will those concerned delete peal from records.

With the peal at Armlay Mr. R. H. Dove has rung peals in all the eleven towers in Leeds and is the first ringer ever to do so. It has taken 32 years to complete!

Hurstpierpoint, Sussex, ringers can take a just pride in the peal recorded this week, which is the first on the bells for 18 years. The ringers of the front six were members of the local band.

Those who watch the B.B.C. TV series of "Blue Peter" on Mondays and Thursdays at 5 p.m. will have seen John Noakes, the programme presenter, have a ringing lesson at Kingston upon Thames. There was also some ringing on the ten bells.

Congratulatory peals have been rung in two towers for local ringers having completed 50 years in the art—Charles Ball, captain of Barton Stacey, Hants, and Isaac W. Smith, of Fairfield, Buxton, Best wishes to them both for many more years of ringing.

A correspondent asks if Shoreham, Kent, ringers were supporting the commuters in their protest against their usual train not stopping there. A Press report reads: "Wives of the 'rebels' were there with car headlights blazing and hooters blaring. Church bells rang in the distance."

THE EARL AGAIN

"The Ringing World" gains notoriety by again appearing in the weekly column of the Earl of Arran in the London "Evening News." The Ladies' Guild is singled out for the following extract:—

"The reporter (a lady?) wrote: 'We expected a challenging address, but we were more than a little startled when the preacher announced his text: 'With my body I thee worship.' We listened with absorbed attention while Mr. Scott presented an aspect of ringing some of us had not considered before. It was a most memorable service.'"

Comments the Earl: "I'll say it was. Does this explain the 'pair of shoes found in a belfry near the second rope after the peal on July 23rd'?"

From our post-bag we gather that many of our readers enjoy his column as much as the Earl does our pages. One suggests that appreciation should be expressed by conferring honorary membership of the Central Council upon him, and another that he should be invited to contribute a column to the brighter "Ringing World."

WILLIAM H. HEWETT

"We hope to put some form of memorial in the tower of St. Margaret's, Westminster, as a reminder of the church service of William H. Hewett," writes John Euston. His association with St. Margaret's dates from 1905, and here he conducted his last peal—Stedman Caters—on January 17th, 1959, for Reuben Sanders' 85th birthday. It may be for the memorial we can have his collection of reports and "Ringing Worlds" bound and a bookcase made. Donations may be sent to John Euston, 28, Fairmile Avenue, Streatham S.W.16.

ROPE BREAKS AS NEW RECTOR TOLLS

During the induction of the new Rector of Chedburgh, Suffolk, between Bury St Edmunds and Haverhill, the bell rope broke. As the bell was silent when the Rector went to toll, the Archdeacon, a Rural Dean and a churchwarden went to assist. But the bell remained silent and finally the rope broke.

The Bishop of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich (Dr. Leslie Brown), who carried out the institution, recalled that a similar happening occurred at his first service as a deacon when he went to toll for evening prayer.

Raven's book shows that Chedburgh has one bell—by T. Osborn, 1797.

BATHWICK PROTEST AT PEAL

With reference to the front page article of November 4th concerning a "Code of Conduct for Peal Ringers," the Vicar of St. Mary's, Bathwick, Somerset, certainly believes in one of the points recommended. In the November parish magazine he published the following under "Notes on the Calendar":

"Saturday, Nov 5th.—Anglican/Methodist Conference—as a further inducement to attend the conference, let me warn you that a peal of bells will be rung from St. Mary's Church some time during the morning for about three hours non-stop. Personally I can't stand this sort of racket and I am only too glad to get away from it. I like bells when they ring for a service, or to celebrate a wedding, or ring in the New Year, or things like that, but a 3-hour peal just for the fun of it is too much of a good thing."

Despite the above warning, during the peal a nearby woman resident collected 200 signatures of protest which she showed to the tower captain and said she would present to the Vicar!!

BUXTON RINGER'S 50 YEARS IN BELFRY

The peal rung at Fairfield, Derbyshire, on October 29th was specially as a compliment to Mr. Isaac W. Smith of the local band. This year marks his completion of 50 years as a Sunday service ringer.

Mr. Smith began his ringing at Elton, near Matlock, a village with a melodious ring of five, but he later moved to Buxton, where he joined the band at Fairfield (then a ring of six). Here, when work permitted, he became an active and faithful member not only of the ringing team but also of the church. When the six bells were augmented to eight in 1949 he mastered the awkward step to the higher number of bells and rang the treble to the first peal of Major on the new bells in 1950. In more recent years occasional visits to Stratford-on-Avon have enabled him to try his hand on ten bells.

He has always been very interested in ringing and has set an example to many by his attendance for Sunday service ringing. For a number of years now he has spoken of giving up ringing and constantly exhorts the youngsters in the tower to "stick to it." But "Ike" enjoys his ringing and will, we hope, stick it himself for a long time yet.

After the peal of Little Bob Major on October 29th a small celebration took place in the belfry. Ike expressing his appreciation and thanks, and the ringers wishing him many enjoyable ringing times to come.

EASTBOURNE'S RINGERS REMEMBER THE FIFTH

"Gunpowder, treason and plot" were certainly not forgotten by youngsters of all ages at St. Mary's, Eastbourne, who combined on the traditional day to celebrate the demise of one Guido Fawkes.

To a chorus of "Ooohs" and "Aaahs" fireworks ranging from the humble sparkler to ear-splitting whistle-stops and super-rockets were despatched. Unkind weather brought the evening to a premature close, but not before piping hot soup and hot dogs had been served in the blaze of a monumental bonfire built on the chalky side of the South Downs.

COMMENTS

"Please put the bells back on 'The Ringing World,'"—Peter D. Niblett (age 7), Canterbury.

"I don't like the 'new look' but if we can have the reading inside, that's all."—John Euston.

"What an uninteresting 'new look,' and apparently the result of six months' thought. It is enough to make dear old Jack Goldsmith haunt those responsible for the rest of their days. The sooner we get the old distinctive heading back with those towers where so much ringing history has been made, the better."—A. D. Barker, Wexham, Slough.

"Shall be sorry if we don't have the bells, ropes, wheel and towers back again on 'The Ringing World.'"—Claude Rush, Felixstowe.

"I am afraid I am old-fashioned enough to lament the passing of the London silhouette on our front page; the replacement is not very exciting, is it?"—A. V. Davis.

"How the new 'lay out' of 'The Ringing World' caught my eye last Thursday: Made me think of the day when I was working in a house and walked into a bathroom. Everything was there (standing beside the bath) but all the trimmings were missing."—E. W. R., Yeovil.

NORTH BERKS ANNUAL DINNER

The second annual dinner of the North Berks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild was held at Wantage on October 28th. The function was well attended, over 130 members, wives and friends being present. Guests included the Guild Master (Canon C. Elliot Wigg) and Mrs. Wigg, Rev. J. H. Schaufeleberger, Vicar of Wantage, and Mr. and Mrs. Hunt, of Newbury. Also present was the Rev. M. F. Giles, Branch chairman, who gave us another sample of his entertaining after-dinner speaking.

The after-dinner entertainment included Miss Peggy East's "rustic revue," songs by Eric Fulbrook and Alf Webb, and some excellent ringing by the Appleton Handbell Ringers, including a superb display of "lapping" with a touch of Stedman Caters. M. B.

SURREY ASSOCIATION FAVOUR POSTAL ADDRESSES

The committee of the Surrey Association has considered the redesignation of peals rung within the area administered by the Greater London Council and is in favour of the standardisation on a national basis of the descriptions of the localities in which peals are rung. They are not, however, in favour of introducing the new boroughs for Greater London peals. "Although no formal decision was made, postal addresses seemed the acceptable method," writes Mr. W. Parrott, the hon. secretary.

BELLS AND THE P.C.C.

In a small parish on the Northants-Rutland border, the P.C.C. has informed the new Rector that the Council had made a "rule" that at no time shall the bells be rung for more than an hour.

Our correspondent asks "Has the P.C.C. the legal powers to decide how the organ shall be played, which hymns or psalms shall be sung or the length of the sermon? If not, why the bells?"

There are no houses near the church and the bells are not so noisy as to constitute a real nuisance. The last peal here was two years ago and, before that, in 1945. One of the three peals in the 1930's was notorious. On the very stroke of 5.040 changes down came the fifth rope as the conductor shouted "That is all." And certainly it was only just all!

RANG HIS SECOND PEAL AFTER 31 YEARS

When a person rings his first peal he does not think that he will have to wait 31 years to ring his second. This has happened to Mr. Jasper Newman of Old Whittington, Chesterfield.

Thirty-one years ago Jasper rang his first peal—Grandsire Doubles at Old Whittington—to celebrate the silver jubilee of the late King George V and Queen Mary. This was for the old Midland Counties Association. Since then the Midland Counties Association has been disbanded and Jasper is now vice-chairman of the Chesterfield District of the Derby Diocesan Association.

On Saturday, October 29th, he rang his second peal. This time it was Kent Treble Bob Minor, at Clay Cross, in memory of the victims of the Aberfan tragedy. This peal was also memorable for other members of the band. For two it was their first peal of Treble Bob Minor, another two their first peal in the method, and for the conductor, Malcolm Phipps, it was his first peal in the method as conductor and also his 100th peal.
