The Cathedral Church of St. Peter in Exeter

EXETER is one of Britain's smaller ancient cathedrals, though its interior has been described as one of the finest in Europe; but to many ringers a visit here must be one of the great moments of a lifetime in the Exercise, for here is a ring of twelve with the second heaviest tenor in the world hung for ringing, unsurpassed in the opinion of many for nobility of tone.

There were seven bells in the Cathedral at its foundation in 1052, and many of the present ring have a continuous history going back to the 14th century; the bells are remarkably well documented in the Cathedral archives. Perhaps the most compact way to outline their history is to give an account of each in turn.

1 and 2. "Thomas I" 6 cwt. 2qr. 16 lb. F. "Thomas II" 6-3-2 E flat. Cast by John Taylor in 1923 as "A thank-offering from an Exeter citizen."

3. "Earle" or The Little Nine O'Clock 7-0-22 D. In the N. tower in 1552. Recast to make a treble for a ten by Evans, 1729; cracked and recast Taylor, 1915, at the expense of Dean Earle.

4. "Byrdall" 8-3-0 C. Added to the ring 1616 by John Byrdall of Exeter to create a ring of six in E flat major.

5. "John Pennington" 8-2-0 B flat. In 1552 called "the eight"; recast by John Pennington of Exeter in 1658—during the Commonwealth.

6. "Purdue" 10-1-2 A. Added to the ring by Thomas Purdue in 1676 to bring the back eight into a major scale.

Flat 6. "Pongamouth" 11-1-8 A flat. The second of the eight in 1552, then called "the major bell." Recast Thomas Pennington II in 1630. The name is probably a nickname for a slow or "wide-mouthed" bell.

7. "Fox," or "Mary," 18-0-4 G. Given (or more likely recast) by Bishop Fox, 1487-93. Recast William Evans, 1729, and John Taylor, 1902.

8. "Doom" 19-0-19 F. The name, at least 400 years old, may refer to the bell's having been used at executions. Probably the bell cast new by Thomas Karoun in 1372; recast Thomas Pennington III. 1689, and Thomas Purdue. 1693.

9. "Cobthorne," or "Magdalene," 28-0-4 E flat. Given by Dean Cobthorne, 15th century; recast Purdue, 1676.

10. "Oldham," or "Trinity," or "Old Nine O'Clock," 33-2-11 D. As there was a bell called Trinity before Bishop Oldham's time (1505-19), this was probably a recast. Again recast William Evans, 1729.

11. "Stafford" 40-3-19 C. Given by Bishop Edmund Stafford (1395-1419) and recast Thomas Purdue, 1676.

Tenor. "Grandisson" 72-2-2 B flat. Given by Bishop John Grandisson (1328-70); recast Thomas Pennington, 1630; Thomas Purdue, 1676, William Evans, 1729, and John Taylor, 1902.

"Peter" 80 cwt. approx. A (in the North Tower). A bell of this name in existence before 1300; recast with increased weight at expense of Bishop Peter Courtenay, 1484, by Robert Russell of Exeter. Again recast 1676 by Thomas Purdue.

INTERESTING FACTS

From the brief histories here one can notice several interesting facts. First, that the eight in existence in 1552, which are named in an inventory, were not in the major scale but in the "Mixolydian mode," i.e., the front eight of a twelve, and that the first attempt to create a major ring came in 1616 but produced only a 28 cwt. six in E flat, now called the "Cobthorne Six."

Second, that this magnificent ring contains the work of six different founders of four different centuries; some of the bells (e.g., the 6th and flat 6th) do not sound good by themselves, but do not impair the effect of the whole ring.

Third, that Thomas Purdue in 1676 cast a total of some 13 tons of metal in one of the Canons' gardens (now about on the site of the Midland Bank in Bedford Street); that only one of his bells has needed recasting, and that three of them, "Cobthorne," "Stafford" and "Peter," are outstandingly fine bells.

William Evans was not so lucky, as only one of his bells survives, but "Oldham" is a very fine bell and does him credit.

SIXTEEN MEN FOR CALL CHANGES

The bells were hung until 1902 in a very high oak frame in which the ten needed sixteen men to ring call-changes. In 1902 Taylors installed the grand iron and steel frame for thirteen, and not long ago the back four were fitted with ball-bearings. Since 1902 they have been manned by a method-ringing band from the Guild of Devonshire Ringers; they were formerly rung by a band drawn from Alphington and Kenn, and one of the cards from which the call-changes were rung has recently been given to the Guild Library.

The ringing-room, high and spacious, is reached by a dramatic walk along the leads of the Nave roof. Many notable peals have been rung on the bells, including a few with the tenor rung single-handed. Peals of Grandsire Triples and Plain Bob Major have been rung on the back eight.

In addition to ringing on Sundays and special occasions the bells are rung at 6.30 a.m. on the major festivals; nobody who has heard them shouting across the pitch-dark city on a frosty Christmas morning will soon forget it.

"Peter" is hung dead and chimed with a clock-type hammer as well as being the clock-bell. Before the last century this bell was never called "Great Peter"; his weight was invariably much exaggerated (the diameter is 74in.), but he is the oldest bell of his weight (or the biggest bell of his age) in the country. All published accounts prior to 1964 gave the inscription as wrongly copied by H. T. Ellacombe: the correct one will be found, with the rest of the inscriptions, in a booklet on the bells obtainable from the Friends of Exeter Cathedral, 1, The Cloisters, Exeter, price 9d. KENT C.A. DINNER

ARCHDEACONS TOLD OF VICARS WHO NEGLECT THEIR BELFRIES

EVERYONE attending this year's Kent Dinner was immediately deeply impressed by the view of Canterbury Cathedral obtained from the top of the stairs leading down to the dining hall of Eliot College. From here the College building was designed so that the Cathedral, a mile away, is framed by the huge window on the far side of the hall. On September 21st the Cathedral was lit by a glorious sunset and stood against heavy thunder-clouds as a background—it provided a spectacle remarked upon by several speakers during the course of the evening.

The attendance was probably higher than ever before at a Kent Dinner when the company sat down to a splendid meal, which was quickly and efficiently served.

After the meal Mr. E. A. Barnett, on the occasion of his first official appearance as chairman of the Association, proposed the loyal toast. Mr. Barnett extended a welcome to everyone in the hall, especially the two Archdeacons present.

The toast of "The Church" was proposed by Mr. A. S. Phelps, chairman of the Ashford District, who began by saying how strongly he felt about the relationship between some incumbents and ringers. His father had been Vicar of a Black Country parish with a fine ring of ten bells. A very good relationship existed there, with ringers' suppers being held at the Vicarage with plenty of beer and handbells—in that order. He wondered, however, if the two Archdeacons on their annual visitations were to ask incumbents when they last visited their belfries, how surprised and shocked they would be by the answers.

BELFRIES NOT VISITED BY CLERGY

Mr. Phelps said he could name two Vicars in the Canterbury Diocese who had not set foot upon their belfry steps for two years; and another who did not know the way to the ringing chamber even 18 months after his induction. He mentioned instances of ringers being informed of requests for wedding bells too late to raise a band—and this through no fault of the wedding party. Mr. Phelps said that surely the clergy could visit their belfries at least once a month to read a prayer; it would make a big difference to morale.

He said that the last impression he wanted to give was that he was attacking the Church, which, representing God and His teaching, was the only way this country could recover its morale and morals.

Before concluding, Mr. Phelps asked the chairman's permission to touch on a subject not included in his brief, and one that could make him unpopular with some of those present; it was that "The Ringing World" should not publish any peal or quarter peal unless accompanied by a remittance of economic value. He asked why some should publicise their successes at the expense of the paper.

Mr. Phelps concluded by hoping that all ringers might continue in their prime duty of service ringing.

TYPICALLY ENGLISH

The response was given by the Archdeacon of Canterbury, the Ven. M. J. Nott, who expressed his pleasure at being present. He was alarmed about Mr. Phelps' remarks about clergy not visiting belfries. He was sure, however, that this could only apply to the Diocese of Rochester or the Archdeaconry of Maidstone! He said he was devoted to the Church and its bells, and that in the mind of the average Englishman there was an almost mystical association between the Church and bells as something typically English.

In the 20th century, churches were partly empty, but there was something splendid and triumphant about the sound flung out to those who stopped their ears to the message.

Referring to correspondence in "The Times" complaining about bells, the Archdeacon said that this arose from an unquiet conscience—the message of the bells went home. At the same time the Church of England was being denigrated from both inside and out by people who did so without knowing what they wanted as a result of turning the Church upside down. He knew of no modern substitute for the Prayer Book.

The Archdeacon concluded by expressing his gratitude for the hospitality he had received and urged that the bells continue to carry the most important of messages to the outside world—whether people would hear it or not.

THE MAYOR'S "SPECIAL" FRIEND

The toast of "The Visitors" was proposed by Mr. A. P. S. Berry, secretary of the Ashford District. Mr. Berry first welcomed the Mayor of Canterbury (Councillor H. J. Buckworth), who, during the war years, did duty as a special constable with one of the Kent County Association's vice-presidents—until the Mayor became sergeant and left his partner in the ranks! Mr. Berry then welcomed the Ven. M. J. Nott and the Ven. T. E. Pritchard, Archdeacon of Maidstone, who was formerly Vicar of St. Peter's, Broadstairs, and was himself a ringer who made it his business to visit the tower at least once every Sunday. Among the other visitors mentioned was Dr. Geoffrey Templeton, vice-chancellor of the University and president of the Cathedral Company of Change Ringers.

The Mayor of Canterbury replied, referring to his friend, ex-Special Constable Luck, who he believed took up ringing to assist his thirst! He said that while recently in Bruges he heard a magnificent carillon, but understood that this was not true bellringing.

The Mayor's speech was followed by a touch of Grand sire Cinques on handbells by A. J. Corby, E. A. Barnett, Mrs. P. T. Robbins, T. A. Cross, E. J. Beer and W. H. Dobbie. At the conclusion Mr. Barnett quoted Dr. Johnson by saying that this had been "the triumph of hope over experience."

The Archdeacon of Maidstone, the Ven. T. E. Pritchard, then proposed the toast of "The Kent County Association." He commented that he was a very unworthy member of the Association but ringing was still a joy and pleasure to him. He had managed to ring a peal of Grand sire on the treble, but the technical terms of ringing were for him worse than the Greek Testament.

LESS REPUTABLE

The Archdeacon said it was unfortunate that bells and ringers were often neglected by the authorities, who seemed to associate them with the lower and less reputable parts of parochial life. He said that bells were not always popular, and referred to the time when, as curate at Lambeth, he had hopes that one day the gatekeeper at the Archbishop's Palace would go to church. The gatekeeper, however, lived directly below the tower and by 6.20 p.m. the bells had made him so bad-tempered that he refused to go to church.

He went on to say that it was unusual for two Archdeacons to occupy the same pulpit on the same day, but their texts would undoubtedly be the same—the Church of England and their belfries—all power to them. He wished that congregations would show more intelligence about ringers, but he partly blamed the ringers for this. They often tucked themselves away in their own corner, so many regular worshippers knew nothing of ringing. They should throw open a welcome to the belfry more freely.

The Archdeacon gave a special welcome to Mrs. Mitchell, who, he believed, was nearly as old as the Association. (This was later corrected by the general secretary, who said that Mrs. Mitchell was 95 years old and the Association a mere 88!)

He concluded by saying it was splendid to see so many young people in the belfries. Bellringing was a great art and the K.C.A. a great Association, and he hoped it would go from strength to strength.

EIGHT FIRST-PEALERS IN PEAL

Mr. P. A. Corby, the hon. general secretary of the Association, replied and mentioned the peal of Bob Major rung at Lydd earlier that day, in which all eight ringers were ringing their first peal—an extremely rare event. The dinner arrangements had been carried out by Dr. Niblett, assisted by Mr. Bert Luck. All credit for this occasion was due entirely to these two.

Regarding complaints about bells, Mr. Corby said that in some cases they were justified and that towers concerned should try to remedy this by sound control. He remarked that this year the Masters of both the College Youths and the Cumberlands were resident members of the K.C.A. As this was his last year as general secretary he took the opportunity of thanking everyone for their support and help during his term of office.

The chairman concluded the formal part of the evening by adding his own congratulations to the peal band and echoed the gratitude of everyone in thanking those responsible for arranging the dinner, including the vice-chancellor, Dr. Templeman, for the use of the College.

Although the hour was already late, many people stayed behind still longer to meet friends socially. Everyone agreed that once again the K.C.A. dinner had been a most successful and enjoyable occasion. D.C.M.

BELLS WITH A CHALLENGE

Situated some five miles from Daventry is the picturesque Northants village of Everdon. The square stone tower possesses a heavy ring of five with a tenor of 47ins., given in Dove's as 18 cwt.

These bells, which have been unringable since 1930, were recently got going again by a band from London and had only been rung twice before October 6th when, for Harvest Festival Evensong, Mr. Richard Jones, of London, brought a band to attempt a quarter peal of Plain Bob Doubles.

Great difficulty was found with all the bells, which tend to drop unexpectedly, the second being a real handful. Nevertheless, to the delight of the Vicar and Mr. Jones, the quarter was successfully brought round by G. Dalton 1, P. Taylor 2, R. Crocker 3, L. Way 4, G. K. Dodd (cond.) 5.

All five bells are by Hugh Watts II of Leicester. Treble, 2nd and 4th 1625; 3rd 1626; tenor 1635. The tenor is inscribed in Lombardic capitals:

"My sounding is each one to call,
To serve the Lord both grete and smal."
The oak frame is circa 1625, with the treble hung over the others. All swing north to south.

The bells were refitted, quarter-turned and rehung circa 1860 by White of Appleton.

There was an active call change band in the 1920's, as two certificates on the wall prove. The bells ceased to be rung in 1930 and were classified as unringable in 1938.

To any visiting band the bells present a real challenge and to ring to changes a great deal of hard work is required. No doubt until rehanging this will be the first and last quarter peal on the bells. G.K.D.

NOTES

William Pye.—Rang 1,114 (conducted 859) for Middlesex County Association. 890 with brother Ernest, 875 with Isaac G. Shade. He called a peal on all 366 dates of the year.

Isaac G. Shade.—Knocked down and killed two days after his last peal.

Ernest Pye.—Tragic death on railway at 39 years of age, one month after last peal.

James George.—Last peal (handbells) on 95th birthday.

Ernest Morris.—Died 19 days after last peal. Rang peals on all 366 dates of the year.

Harold J. Poole.—Died the day after last peal.

John Worth.—Died in street at Lincoln a week after last peal.

George Williams.—First to conduct 1,000 tower bell peals.

James Bennett and C. T. Coles rang their 1,000th in the same peal (July 24th, 1943)—half-muffled at Cravford for Capt. F. G. Coles, M.C. (C. T. Coles' son), killed in action on April 28th, 1943.

HAD THE FIRST ISSUE

COCKEY, J. Lewis, of 47, Bath Road, Swindon, is one of our No. 1 subscribers. During World War I he had his copy sent to him at Suez, then on the Somme and finally for ten months in hospital.

LENTON, J. H., Pontefract, writes: "Congratulations on your 3,000th issue. Though I have not been a personal subscriber all these years, I have been a reader from the first publication and always look forward to its news."

HARDING, Gilbert H., Trowbridge, Wilts, writes that he has taken "The Ringing World" since the first issue. He was then secretary of the Devizes Branch and cycled around the Branch with copies of that issue.

MYERS, A. W., Plymouth, writes that his father, who died in 1960, had "The Bell News" and then two "Ringing Worlds," which have been regularly collected ever since. All "The Ringing Worlds" are in his possession and the second copy he takes to his belfry, St. Andrew's, Plymouth, where he is captain. His father was captain from 1914 until 1960. His two sons are following the family tradition and they hope to keep it going.

YORKTOWN, SURREY.—On Oct. 13th, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: Mrs. C. Perry (first quarter) 1. R. Clist 2. W. Lamb 3. Miss M. Coldman 4. W. J. H. Parker (cond.) 5. G. Coldman 6. M. Church 7. 1. Perry 8. For Harvest Festival.

OBITUARY

MR. W. A. (BILL) AVERY

After a lengthy illness the death of Mr. W. A. Avery took place at Sambourne Hospital, Warminster, on October 14th. A member of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, he was tower captain at SS. Peter and Paul's, Longbridge Deverill, for about 30 years.

Mr. Avery taught a new band there after the war and was responsible for the augmentation from six to eight bells in 1949. At this time he was an instructor of change ringing for the Salisbury Guild and did good work in the Warminster area. He often rang with the Warminster Minster band.

A half-muffled quarter peal of Grandsire Triples was rung by local and Minster ringers on the eve of his funeral.

MR. R. THOMAS NEWMAN

With deep regret we record the death of Mr. R. Thomas Newman, who passed away peacefully on September 14th in Beckenham Hospital, Kent, in his 61st year.

To say Mr. Newman was a popular man would be untrue. He never professed to be a well-liked man, but to all who knew him he had earned the respect of being an honest individual. If he thought you were going to be a bad ringer he would tell you, and if he thought the opposite he would be the first to help you in his own way. His memory will be with me for a long time.

Mr. Newman was a good ringer, a good Christian and a good servant to the Exercise. My sympathies at this time go to Mrs. Newman and her daughter, Cecilia. T. L.

MR. W. SIMPSON

Deeply regretted in a wide area is the sudden death on October 9th of Mr. William Simpson, who had been a ringer and chorister at Sawley, Derbyshire, for over 60 years and was Ringing Master for a long period.

The Sunday previous to his death "Bill" and his wife rang in a first for the Sawley band of a quarter peal of Erin Triples, and the following day at practice he rang in the first course of Cambridge Surprise Major by the local band.

A memorial service was held at Sawley on October 13th and prior to the service a quarter peal was rung with the bells half-muffled.

SWINTON, LANCs.—On Oct. 2nd, 1,320 Doubles (two methods): G. Pritchard 1. I. Eggleston 2. N. T. E. Burnett 3. D. Makin-Taylor 4. R. K. Lister (cond.) 5. G. Wells 6. For 99th anniversary of the church.

CHESTER GUILD DINNER

Outstanding Peals Recalled

THE annual dinner and dance of the Chester Diocesan Guild was held at the Coach and Horses Inn, Moreton, Wirral. The attendance of about 100 was 50 down on last year, partly due to the distance and time of travelling required from some parts of the county and partly because the Chester Branch decided to hold a meeting that day! The start of the dinner was delayed by about half an hour because those travelling from the north-east of the county had clutch trouble with the coach. A turkey dinner befitting the occasion was enjoyed by all.

The toast of "The Chester Diocesan Guild" was proposed by the Archdeacon of Chester. He confessed that he was not a ringer and had never had a church which contained a complete ring of bells until he came to the Cathedral and the bells there were unringable at present—but not for long, he hoped! He thanked ringers for their service to the Church and emphasised the privileged position that all ringers had when they rang church bells which reach the ears of people outside the church on both joyful and sad occasions.

In his reply to the toast of "The Guild" the Master, Mr. Alex Martin, said that although 1967 had not been a record year for performances (174 peals compared with 183), members of the Guild had taken part in some outstanding performances. He drew particular attention to the peal of 40 Spliced Surprise Maximus rung at Liverpool Cathedral earlier this year; having taken part in the first peal of Cambridge on the bells he could fully appreciate the performance.

His main aim, he said, was to see that all the bells in the diocese were rung for services; while the standard of striking was important, the first aim should be a sufficient number of ringers.

Each of the two speeches was followed by handbell ringing—the Archdeacon's by a course of Plain Bob Royal rung by F. Osbaldiston 1-2, C. K. Lewis 3-4, R. Peters 5-6, D. Lane 7-8, F. L. Coventry 9-10, and Mr. Martin's by a touch of Spliced Surprise Major rung by N. Bennett 1-2, B. F. L. Groves 3-4, R. B. Smith 5-6, G. Moorhouse 7-8.

Dancing followed until 11.45 p.m., all tastes being catered for. Our thanks are due to Mr. Martin and members of the Wirral Branch for first-class arrangements, which led to an enjoyable time being had by all present.

Next year's dinner and dance will be held at the Mollington Banastre Hotel, Chester, on the second Saturday in October (as usual).

OUNDL RINGERS' DAY ON COTSWOLDS

Members of the Oundle Branch spent an enjoyable day on the Cotswolds on September 21st, ringing at Chipping Norton, Moreton-in-the-Marsh, Stow-on-the-Wold and Bourton-on-the-Water.

Due to a striking competition being held at Great Barrington, last-minute alterations were necessary and we went to Windrush (an anti-clockwise six). The ringing consisted of rounds, Plain Bob Minor, Stedman and a pleasing course of Oxford, when the ringer of the fourth remembered when he went into the slow.

After tea at Witney we went on to Hanborough, where the bells had a peculiar tone and sounded half-muffled. At Combe, after a touch of Plain Bob Minor, the stay of the second broke. The finest ring of the day was at Kirtlington, where, after three attempts, a touch of Grandsire Triples was rung.

Thanks are due to Mr. Hinton, the organiser, who took over the ringing for the day, Mr. Alec Head, the incumbents and coach driver.

The Grandsire of the Arscotts Honoured

Family peals and quarter peals honoured the golden wedding on October 5th of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Arscott, of Paradise Cottage, Tivington, Minehead, Somerset.

Mr. Arscott learned to ring some 60 years ago at Chipstable, Somerset. Now 74 years of age, he does not make a regular attendance for ringing, but he was able to join in a quarter peal of Plain Bob Doubles at his home tower (Selworthy) on his golden wedding day. Mrs. Arscott has for years been organist at the chapel of ease to Selworthy Parish Church, and both enjoy reasonably good health.

On October 5th they were taken around the countryside to listen to the ringing in honour of their happy anniversary. Later there was a "wonderful spread" at the Wayside Café, Porlock, prepared by their daughter-in-law. Many relatives and friends attended, and then followed an entertainment of tune- and change-ringing on handbells and singing.

The next day Mr. and Mrs. Arscott were taken to St. Martin's Church, West Coker, where they were married, and they were able to listen to a quarter peal of Plain Bob Major being rung on the bells. And so concluded a happy celebration.

THIRD TIME LUCKY FOR WINCHESTER CATHEDRAL

The 22nd annual outing of the East Grinstead and District Guild was held on October 12th, the main attraction being Winchester Cathedral. This venue had been voted for on two previous occasions, but each time the bells had been booked, so after last year's outing negotiations were started. Despite letters at regular intervals, no definite reply had been received by the end of August, so an alternative route was started off. This was just getting under way nicely when, with four weeks to go, the Dean of Winchester said "Yes."

Towers were rearranged or cancelled and a letter sent off to arrange tea. As no reply had been received two weeks later the telephone had to be used. This infernal machine, after gobbling up sundry shillings and sixpences, told us that the café could not cater for 40 people, and that no other place in Fareham could do so. So it was "get your own tea."

In pouring rain we set out and all was well until we found the approach to Hawkey tower blocked by a ditched furniture van, necessitating a detour. At Winchester several of the party had their first ring on 12 bells and most of the party their first experience of pot-holing, as that is what the top part of the stairs was like. Our Andrew's day was made when he was allowed to ring the tenor.

By then the sun was shining and Twyford tower could be seen but not reached. In the end the coach parked on a housing estate and we walked across the fields.

At Fareham we enjoyed the light ten and were all able to get a good meal in the only café open near the church. The day ended at Walberton, where, after ringing, we walked to the "local," where we were made very welcome.

And so what looked like being a fiasco turned out to be a very enjoyable day. There are all sorts of luck, I suppose. C. A. B.

DICK'S TOUR

A group of Petersfield ringers and friends turned their attention westward to the Somerset, Wiltshire and Dorset borders recently. On two previous occasions a tour to this area has been reported in these columns as "Wilf's Tour." These tours came to an end when Wilf Davison, the organiser, left the district. The new event has been named "Dick's Tour" by popular consent, having been organised by Dick Cross, who recently came to Petersfield from the Gillingham area.

The towers chosen were at Milborne Port, Charlton Horethorne (the organiser's birthplace, where an attempt for a quarter of Stedman Triples failed after 30 minutes' good ringing), Wincanton (the best ringing of the tour), Mere and Gillingham. The ringing at Gillingham was disappointing, the fine bells being a bit too much for the band at the end of the day.

A tired but well-satisfied band thank their organiser for this his first attempt at planning such a tour. D. M. H.

Letters

INSURANCE OF JUVENILES

Dear Sir,—I was interested in the letter by Messrs. White and O'Reilly in the matter of the insurance of ringers, as their problem is mine also. A short time ago it was my unpleasant duty to tell two ten-year-olds to come back in two years' time and, goodness knows, I could have done with them. Our insurance cover is for people of 12 and upwards and I would have thought this is fairly general over the country.

I am amazed to read in "The Ringing World" of up-and-coming youngsters who have rung a peal at ten years of age and such-like. A ringing friend said he would be glad of ten-year olds and would take a chance. I think this is very foolish indeed and might be regretted one day. You never know!

There seems to be no alternative and, after all, perhaps 12 years of age is early enough physically.—Yours faithfully,

R. F. BAKER.

Brampton, Huntingdon.

CRITICAL EXAMINATION

Dear Sir,—In the issue of October 18th we have reported yet another of those annual peal tours. From this particular peal tour, some facts:—

1. The actual account of the peal tour filled the best part of a whole page.
2. The account of the peals took a whole page.
3. £1 was donated towards the production costs of "The Ringing World" (according to the "Gratefully Acknowledged" column).
4. 16 peals were rung.
5. 136 ringers' names appear in the 16 peals.
6. Relating the number of ringers' names to the amount of the donation, an average sum of 1 13/17th pence per rope per peal was donated.—Yours faithfully,

Taunton. KEITH E. BEALE.

WAITED IN VAIN

Dear Sir,—I was struck by M. W.'s cool reference to his and his band's late arrival in Harrogate and their consequent inability to ring, but even more by the absence of any recognition that a Harrogate ringer had been much inconvenienced by the affair. We in Harrogate have received no explanation or excuse from M. W.. Ron and the rest of them. Apparently they think a casual note in "The Ringing World" is good enough.—Yours faithfully,

C. I. P. ROBERTS.

Harrogate.

OLDEST MAN TO RING A PEAL

Dear Sir,—Mr. G. E. Symonds is described (on page 804) as "the oldest man to ring a peal." I believe the late James George rang a peal of Grandsire Triples "in hand" on his 95th birthday.—Yours truly, Gillingham, Dorset.

H. JIM RALPH.

Note.—Reader Ralph is quite correct. Mr. G. E. Symonds is the oldest man living to ring a peal.—Ed.

The Rev. Geoffrey Strickland, curate of Holy Trinity, Aberavon, whose address is Holy Trinity Vicarage, Sandfields, Port Talbot, writes asking for a redundant bell of good tone in the 1 cwt.-2 cwt. range which a parish is prepared to sell cheaply. He is willing to arrange for the lowering and transport of the bell, which is required for a new church costing £40,000.

A Review of Four-Bell Towers in the Administrative County of Kent

By DAVID L. CAWLEY

Adisham (The Holy Innocents).—Central tower. Front three by Thomas Palmar 1. 1670, tenor 35 in. diameter, 7½ cwt. Frame, gear and bells all taken down 1957, and tenor alone rehung "dead" by Mears; a good bell by John Walgrave, c. 1425. Other three on floor.

Addington, near Wrotham.—The writer has not seen these bells: 1 M. Bagley 1710, 2, 3 and 4 by John Wilnar 1635, 1620 (dated erroneously 1602), and undated respectively. He has heard differing reports both on their state and their future.

Alkham (St. Anthony Martyr).—1, 2 and 4 John Hodson 1683, 3 Mears 1873. Large west tower. Rehung in 1873 frame 1959 by Mears. Go well. Local band. Tenor 34½ in. diameter, 7½ cwt.

Bicknor (St. James').—West tower and spire. Steel bells, 1862, all by Naylor Vickers. Tenor 20½ in. diameter, 1½ cwt. Very small steel wheels, no stays or sliders and obviously not intended for full-circle ringing. Made for 1862 Exhibition in London.

Bishopsbourne (St. Mary's).—Huge west tower. 1 Christopher Hodson 1685, 2, 3 and tenor (34 in., 6½ cwt.) Joseph Hatch 1618. State of frame and fittings dreadful: "clocked" for years, sound awful and quite unringable.

Canterbury (St. Peter's).—The old three—1, Thomas Palmar 1637; 2, Wm Wodewarde c. 1430; 3 (35½ in., 8 cwt. in A) Wm le Belvedere c. 1325—are currently being augmented by the addition of the former treble of St. Margaret's (S. B. Goslin, 1905) to form a fixed chime of four in the old frame, this being done by the Whitechapel Bell Foundry Ltd.

Davington (Priory Church of St. Mary Magdalene and St. Lawrence). S.W. tower, survivor of two, and spirelet. Three bells, tenor 2-0-12 in F in iron frame, by Taylor, 1856; light weight and curious roping make them unringable at present; the smallest bell, dated 1774, is more properly a sanctus, and is only hung for chiming, separately from the other three.

East Langdon (St. Mary's).—Modern western tower with four bells in modern rolled steel frame. Not closely inspected, but probably 1, 2 and 3 Joseph Hatch 1627, tenor (32 in., 5½ cwt.) Robert Catlin 1749; all rehung by Bowell. Go well, but ringing space very cramped. No ringers.

Fordwich (St. Mary's).—Slender western tower and spire. Bells all by Joseph Hatch; 2 1624, other three 1633; tenor 33½ in., 6½ cwt. Pre-Reformation frame, fittings quite modern, but bells now unringable. Ropes fall diagonally across ringing gallery. Unfortunately now "clocked."

Grain (St. James').—Modern squat western tower built at the cost of King Edward VII in 1902. The writer has not seen the bells but is informed that they are ringable but have no ropes. Tenor reputed 4½ cwt.; believed to be by Mears, 1902. Formerly one 18th century bell, 19½ in.

Gravesend (Seamen's Chapel).—Four very small Victorian bells probably by Mears or Warner, given by the widow of Sir John Franklin. Hung "dead" in three arches of a bell gable, and "clocked". Tenor about 2 cwt.

Harbledown (St. Nicholas').—Two churches on either side of the road. St. Michael's, of little interest, has three bells rehung in 1962 for swing-chiming. St. Nicholas', of great interest, now the chapel of the almshouses, themselves the successors of a hospital of immediate post-Conquest date, has a light four (31½ in., 5½ cwt. in C), 1, 2 and 4 by Joseph Hatch, second a 15th century London production. Tone very fair, but bells virtually unringable. The writer, having sampled them, would not recommend others to try it.

Ickham (St. John's).—Tall western tower and spire, with four bells of which the third is very nearly split in two. All by John Palmar. 1641. Fittings repaired about 1800 and obviously never touched since—the wheels are old half-wheels converted. Bells "clocked" by an active team of youngsters. It was proposed to rehang the three sound bells "dead" and put the cracked bell in the church until it could be recast; this seems to be making little progress. Tenor 36 in., 8 cwt.

Newnham (SS. Peter and Paul's).—N.W. tower and spire with double-tier frame (1867). 1 and 2 are uninscribed but possibly 15th century London bells, 3 Pack and Chapman 1772, tenor (33½ in., 6½ cwt. in B) by John Kebyll, London, c. 1480. Bells rather rough, but rung occasionally.

Sevington (St. Mary's).—W. tower with lofty spire. Formerly a complete 1630 ring by Joseph Hatch, treble recast by Mears 1885; rehung again by Mears with new swing-chiming fittings in the old frame, 1959. Tenor 37 in., 8½ cwt. in A.

Staple (St. James').—West tower with a one-handed clock, recently restored. 1 and 2 John Hodson 1680, 3 Richard Hille c. 1430, tenor (41 in., 11½ cwt.) Joseph Hatch 1623. Clock hammer fouls second, which has a chunk out of it, and tenor appears not to have a clear swing. Not rung for years, appear unringable, and usually "clocked." Tone only fair.

Waltham (St. Bartholomew's).—Oblong central tower of unsymmetrical shape. All four bells by Joseph Hatch, 3rd being probably his earliest production, as it bears his father's foundry mark instead of his usual three-bell medallion, and is dated 1602. Others 1631. Tenor 37 in., 8½ cwt. in A. Usually chimed, but ringing is carried out by the excellent band from the united benefice of Petham (6) on festivals.

Westwell (St. Mary's).—This most glorious church with its superb chancel has a small west tower containing the heaviest four in the county. The frame, which rises nearly into the spire, is supported on a splendid truss-work set off only 11 feet from the ground. It is hoped that if restoration is carried out this trusswork and the outer members of the frame will be preserved independently of the new one. 1 by John Wilnar 1630, 2 and 3 (the latter cracked and unused) Joseph Hatch 1609 and 1616, tenor (42 1/16th in., 12½ cwt. in F sharp), a roughly cast but splendid toned bell by William Oldfield of Canterbury. The latter bell, c. 1540, has a curious device on its upper waist, qv. "The Church Bells of Kent." Bells unringable, but fairly clean in tower. Swing-chiming is at present used on three bells.

HARSTON, CAMBS.—On Oct. 13th, 1.260 Plain Bob Minor: Nancy R. Threlfall (first quarter) 1. Frances A. Threlfall 2, G. Pearson 3, R. H. Youdale 4, R. L. Underwood 5, B. D. Threlfall (cond.) 6. For Harvest Festival.

NORWICH ASSOCIATION'S STRIKING COMPETITION

Fourteen bands from the Norwich Diocesan Association subjected their ringing to the critical ear of Mr. Howard Egglestone on the occasion of the annual striking competition held at Bunwell on October 19th. The bells proved ideal for such a competition, being so easy to handle that even the most inexperienced were caused no difficulty on that score, yet sufficiently odd-struck to ensure that even the most experienced dared not relax too readily.

The first ringing of the afternoon was provided by the five call change bands. Standards varied somewhat, with first and last teams being separated by a margin of 183 faults. The teams were placed in the order: Drayton, Wymondham, Mattishall, Reepham and Wroxham. It was particularly pleasing that the band from the newest tower in the diocese should distinguish itself by being placed first in this section. Four of the five teams were composed mainly of young ringers gaining their first experience of competition ringing. Wroxham and Reepham did extremely well to enter bands for both call change and method ringing, indicating great enthusiasm at both towers.

Nine teams presented themselves for the method ringing, and all attempted to ring 240 changes of Minor. Eight touches were successfully brought round, whilst a miscall in the ninth led to a touch shorter than the prescribed length. All teams chose Plain Bob except two—Mancroft "A" and King's Lynn, both of whom rang Cambridge. The self-confidence of these bands was rewarded with first and second place respectively, and as both test pieces were completed without mistakes there was little to choose between them. Close behind King's Lynn followed Diss with an excellent piece of Plain Bob. St. Giles', Norwich, were placed fourth, being unfortunate to mar their thoroughly competent striking with three missed dodges. The other bands followed in the order Dereham, South Norfolk, Wroxham and Reepham.

The criticism and comment of Howard Egglestone was scrupulously fair and very much to the point, and we are indebted to him for devoting so much time and attention to us. After seeing him do the job so well this year he can hardly expect us to pass him over when we look for a judge next year! After the judging the Henley handbell ringers held the attention of all present with a polished performance of tune ringing.

Thanks are due to Peter Adcock, Association Ringing Master, for arousing so much enthusiasm, and to Messrs. Philippo and Arnold for their excellent local arrangements.

CRAWFORD CUP CONTEST

Six teams had qualified for the final of the Crawford Cup contest held at St. Mary's, Orston, on September 14th. The judges were Messrs. R. Cooke and J. Poyner and they were both greatly impressed by the standard of ringing achieved.

Placings: Wollaton 87 faults, Shelford 97, Wharton 99½, East Retford 112½, Balderton 141½, Warsop rang out.

A service was conducted by the Rev. G. F. Blackmore after the contest ringing and, later, over 60 ringers enjoyed tea in the Village Hall. A collection for the Bell Repair Fund realised £5 4s. Ringing continued in the evening at Orston, Wharton and Sibthorpe.

Up and Coming Youngsters — No. 40

DAVID GALBRAITH
The Irish Association.

It is very pleasing to note that the Irish Association is today strongly represented by a large number of youngsters, and has at last taken its place in this series. The Exercise must surely be grateful to many of the older members of the Association for the amount of time they are giving to the teaching of youngsters. For instance, twice every week during the lunch break some eight or nine boys will be seen running across the road from the Grammar School in Dublin to St. Patrick's Cathedral for a practice on the bells, which are silenced, under the watchful eye of Charlie Reede.

A number of youngsters took part in the ringing at Limerick a short time ago for the 800th anniversary of St. Mary's Cathedral, one of whom was David Galbraith.

David was born in Limerick on December 18th, 1952. He started his schooling at St. Michael's National School, Limerick, and then went to Villiers Secondary School, where he has recently gained his intermediate certificate with honours. At the present time he is at Welsey College, Dublin, studying for the leaving certificate.

David started ringing lessons at St. Mary's Cathedral, Limerick, when he was 13, and was taught by the tower captain, Mr. Harry Ellis, and also his father, Mr. Cyril Galbraith. Two years later, on September 10th, 1967, he rang the treble to a quarter peal of Bob Triples. This was his first, and was conducted by Mr. Fred Dukes.

Since then David has gone a step or two further, for on April 29th and May 6th this year he conducted quarter peals of Plain Bob Doubles and Grandsire Doubles. On each occasion he rang the third.

It is hoped that in the near future he will have an opportunity to ring his first peal, and this might well be Stedman Triples, as he has already mastered the method in Doubles.

A short time ago David, with mother, father and two brothers (all ringers), together with another brother and two sisters, left Limerick to live in Dublin. This was a tremendous loss to St. Mary's Cathedral, Limerick, but a great gain to Dublin.

Good luck, David! and may your enthusiasm and loyalty be an example to all the ringing youngsters in your beautiful Ireland.

NORVING.

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

Tamerton Foliot, Plymouth, was the venue for the autumn quarterly meeting of the South-West Branch on October 5th. About 30 members took part in ringing standard methods and a touch of Cambridge Minor before the service in this ancient parish church.

The business meeting followed tea in Emmanuel Church Hall. The change in date, to November 16th, of the Branch social was announced. This event, which is becoming an annual function, is to be held this year at Harewood House, Plympton.

The year 1969 sees the 50th anniversary of the foundation of the Branch on November 8th. It was proposed that the Branch should celebrate this by holding the autumn meeting next year on the same date—happily a Saturday—at the same church—Peteravy—visited at the inaugural meeting. The annual social, arranged for that date, would be a fitting conclusion to the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Mallett, who have recently moved to Plymouth from Exeter, and Peter Bill, from Worcestershire, were welcomed as new members of the Branch. Mr. Aubrey Bennett, a vice-president of the Guild, presented a Guild certificate to Roy Davies, of St. Andrew's band.

A suggestion that Branch practices should be held in specific methods provoked little enthusiasm in view of the fact, as the chairman pointed out, that some tower practices are not well supported. This should be a matter of priority.

A YORKSHIRE OUTING

Arranged by Kevin M. Price, a party of ringers from the Lake District enjoyed a tour of eight towers in Yorkshire on October 19th.

A prompt start was made at Sedburgh (8, 15½ cwt.) at 9 a.m., where we were joined by some of the local schoolboy ringers, before going on to Asbriigg (6, 10½ cwt.). Here the bells have just started to be rung again after many years' silence, and consequently ringing was rather hard work.

At East Witton (6, 7 cwt.) some good touches were rung on the lovely bells. The last stop before lunch was at West Tanfield (6, 10 cwt.) and ringing was poor due to loose headstocks and the fifth rope continually jumping the wheel, but the Rector informed us that he was hoping to get his bells put in order soon.

Knaresborough (8, 18½ cwt.) provided the best bells of the day, Grandsire Triples and Bob Major coming round quite well. Otley (8, 16½ cwt.) was next, and we were impressed by the tidy ringing chamber although the "go" of the tenor was not very good. We blamed the poor ringing here on the fact that we were not used to "Yorkshire tail-ends." The excellent ring at Ilkley (8, 18½ cwt.) followed, Double Court going quite well on the back six. Here we were joined by Stephen Walker, of Giggleswick, who accompanied us to the last tower of the day, at Kildwick (8, 15½ cwt.), where Kent Major, Grandsire Triples and Little Bob Major were rung, finishing at 8.15 p.m.

We extend our grateful thanks for the very enjoyable day to incumbents and tower captains and to all who drove us.

TINTINNALOGIA 1668 — By a Lover of that Art

AT the Central Council meeting held in Cardiff in 1962, the late Mr. Edwin H. Lewis presented to the Council Library four books from his own collection. One of these was a first edition copy of "Tintinnalogia", written by Richard Duckworth and published by Fabian Stedman in the year 1668, 300 years ago. Only three copies of this edition are known to exist. One is in the Cambridge University Library, one in the British Museum and the third now rests in the Council Library as its most priceless possession.

The quarter century before 1668 had been a troubled time for England. The quarrel between Charles I and his Parliament brought the ravages of civil war from 1642 to 1645 and the execution of the King in 1649. The austere rule of the Puritans brought little comfort, and the relief supplied by the restoration of the monarchy was marred by excess of liberty and licence. The reign of terror of the Great Plague of 1665 was swallowed up in the horror of the fire that swept London in the following year.

Through these distressing times change-ringing somehow survived. What activity there was we do not rightly know, but the records of the Ancient Society of College Youths show us the unbroken list of Masters through all the years from 1640 to 1668. At the Restoration there must have been greatly increased facilities for the practice of the art of ringing and greater interest in the expansion of its possibilities. It was indeed a period of re-awakening; it saw the new architecture of Wren, the lively drama of Wycherley and Congreve, the music Pelham Humfrey brought from France, and the supreme artistry of Henry Purcell. We may well see "Tintinnalogia" as another product of this great wave of reactionary enthusiasm.

SEARCH FOR AUTHOR

The title page of the book tells us that it was printed for Fabian Stedman at his shop in St. Dunstons Churchyard in Fleetstreet, 1668, but it also states that it was written by a "Lover of that ART". For many years, indeed up till less than 30 years ago, it was generally assumed that Stedman was the author of this, the first text book on ringing of which we have any knowledge. But evidence has long been available, though not clearly in view, to show that the writer was Richard Duckworth, an Oxford graduate who took Holy Orders and became Rector of Hartest in Suffolk, Tolland in Somerset, and Steeple Aston in Oxfordshire. At the latter church, we are reminded by Mr. Frederick Sharpe, there is a memorial to Duckworth in the chancel.

It was the patient research of that great human encyclopædia of change-ringing, Jabez Armiger Trollope, that brought a flood of light on the authorship of "Tintinnalogia", and the evidence he offers is astonishing in its breadth and convincing in its authority. Trollope quotes J. T. Smith's "Life of Nollekens", Anthony Wood's "Athenæ Oxonienses" in which Wood states clearly that Duckworth wrote the book, and Thomas Hearne, the Oxford diarist, who repeats the assertion. In addition Trollope succeeded in tracing the career of Richard Duckworth and his probable connection with Fabian Stedman; to round off the matter he compares the style of writing in "Tintinnalogia" with that of "Campanologia" (1677), which was undoubtedly the work of Stedman. One is urged to the conclusion that the two different literary styles indicate two different writers. A consideration of all the circumstances confirms Trollope's view that Stedman provided much of the technical material but that the planning and writing of the book were the work of Duckworth.

"Tintinnalogia" is not, in fact, the first known literature of change-ringing. Mr. Ernest Morris tells us that the Rawlinson MSS. in the Bodleian Library contain an essay by a certain Peter Munday, who about the year 1652 attempted to enlighten his readers in the matter of the ringing of changes and gave some quaint examples of the possibilities of permutation. Some scribbles showing Plain Changes are found on a doopost at Buxhall Church, near Bury St. Edmunds, and the inscribing of some 4-bell changes appear in the ringing chamber at Moulton in Northamptonshire. Both of these inscriptions are much older than the time of Duckworth. But not until 1668 is there any evidence of an attempt to systematise what was known of the art and to provide a reasoned statement of the principles on which changes were constructed and rung.

"MOST INGENIOUS PEAL"

"Tintinnalogia" on its title page claims to present "plain and easie Rules for Ringing all sorts of Plain Changes, together with Directions for Pricking and Ringing all Cross Peals: with a full discovery of the Mysterv and Grounds of each Peal." It certainly fulfils its promise. The first half of the work inquires into the ways in which changes are constructed and the basic principles of the Plain Changes. It then proceeds to the Cross Peals (as they were then called) and here we find, among other things, Old Doubles (what we now know as Plain Bob Doubles), Reading Doubles, New Doubles and what Duckworth calls "the best and most ingenious Peal that ever was composed". Grandsire. Here, too, we shall find Plain Bob Minor, known then as Grandsire Bob, and the instructions for producing and ringing the extent.

The halfway Single prescribed has some interest, for it is made by the lying still of the bells in 1-2 and 5-6; the fact that this reverses the tenors for the second half does not appear to cause any concern. It is worthy of note, however, that the whole 720 might, in some towers or with some bands, be considered too much to attempt. So we are told: "Sometimes it happens that one or more of those persons who do ring this Peal may be weary before they have Rang Eighteen-score changes, therefore upon notice being given, the single change may be forborn, and then the bells will in course come round at the end of Eighteen-score changes, making a complete peal." It was perhaps a kindly thought in days when bells must have gone far more heavily than they do today!

We may note, also with interest today, the following: "There are 40,320 several changes on 8 bells, which to ring it is altogether impossible." The greatest length rung up to Duckworth's time seems to have been 1,680, but it is suggested that the finest musical treat on eight bells was to ring Grandsire Bob on 12357 and let 48 lie behind. One can certainly see its possibilities even if its limitations are considered prohibitive.

"Tintinnalogia" is a remarkable book. Its analysis of the principles governing the change-ringing of its time is as masterly as Heywood's treatise on Stedman Triples, and its instructions for practical ringing are as detailed and rewarding as Snowdon's valuable work. Three hundred years have passed since Duckworth wrote, and in those centuries there has been forged an immense chain of text books for our use and pleasure. "Tintinnalogia" set the pattern for many: it is right that we should honour it at this time, and in honouring it pay tribute to the many scholars, historians, mathematicians and teachers who by their great labours have given us such a noble heritage of ringing literature.

RINGERS' WEDDINGS

BALL—KEMP

After a very wet morning the sun made a very welcome appearance for the wedding on October 12th, at East Dereham Parish Church, of Rosemary, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Kemp, of Dereham, and John, only son of Mrs. and the late Mr. Victor G. Ball, of Wickham, Hants.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Elizabeth Kemp (sister), who had flown in from Calgary, Canada, the previous day, and Sally and Melanie Hunt (nieces of the bridegroom).

Ringings both before and after the ceremony was kindly arranged by the local captain, Mr. George Adams.

The reception was held at the Conservative Hall, and ringing guests were Mr. Peter Adcock (Ringing Master, Norwich District, N.D.A.) and Mrs. Adcock, Mr. Alan Sturgess (tower secretary, Fareham), Mr. John H. Hunt (Ringing Master, Portsmouth District) and Mrs. Hunt (sister of the bridegroom).

Following the honeymoon in the Lake District, the newlyweds will be taking up residence in Fareham, Hants. J. H. H.

LOCK—ROWE

The marriage between Mr. Martin Frank Lock, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lock, of North Mymms, Herts, and Miss Frances Eileen Rowe, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Rowe, of Exeter, took place at the Roman Catholic Church of the Blessed Sacrament, Heavitree, on October 5th.

The service was conducted by Father Staunton, and an address was given by the Rev. Graham Lock (brother of the bridegroom), curate of St. Justus', Rochester.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a long white satin gown and train with a veil and headdress of pearls.

Martin, who works as a librarian in the University of Exeter, has recently been elected captain of the ringers at Heavitree Parish Church. Among the many wedding presents received were an electric fire from the Heavitree ringers and an electric toaster from the St. Luke's College Guild. K. M. L.

CORRECTIONS & AMENDMENTS

In the quarter peal at Pinner the ringer of the third was Mary E. Took and the fourth D. E. R. Knights. (See page 809.)

In the report of the quarter peal at Walsham-le-Willows, Suffolk (page 799) the name of the tenor ringer should be A. Feather.

It was the father of Mr. E. Barnett, mentioned among those who took the first number of "The Ringing World" on page 804, who was a member of the Central Council. His son is a life member.

The footnote to a peal of Surprise Minor rung at Loders, Dorset (page 794) reads: "Believed to be the first peal of Minor on the bells." This is incorrect. Mr. W. C. Shute conducted a peal of Plain Bob Minor there on May 8th, 1931.

An unfortunate error occurred in our issue of October 25th. The name of the writer of the excellent article on the bells of St. Michael's, Cornhill, was Mr. William Cook, the hon. librarian to the Ancient Society of College Youths.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The peal at Rotherhithe was the 125th for Mr. Michael J. Uphill.

Mr. Edward Mould, of Thornbury, Glos., on October 12th completed the Stedman family from Doubles to Cinques within 17 days of 12 months.

Mrs. Kathleen M. Baldwin rang her 400th peal on October 21st. Of these, 175 have been "in hand."

Mr. B. P. Morris, general secretary of the Derby Diocesan Association, has been appointed postmaster of Hinckley and expects to take up duty there early in November.

According to Mrs. Betsy A. Mountford, the hon. secretary of Brinklow (Warwickshire) bellringers, the peal there on October 20th was the first on the bells for 41 years and the first by a local band. She states it is the second recorded peal on the bells.

Evidence of a live District was forthcoming at the annual meeting of the Rochester District when there were three nominations for the post of secretary and four for Ringing Master. We hope the same keenness for office will be displayed in finding a successor to Mr. P. A. Corby as general secretary.

After being a ringer for 42 years Mr. R. G. Edwards has achieved his first quarter peal of Grand-sire Doubles at Stoke Bishop, Bristol. It was almost a faultless performance.

Canon Gilbert Thurlow's latest, at Jasper Snowdon Commemoration Dinner on October 19th. Visitor to verger: "Have you a reredos here?" Verger: "No. Vicar has private arrangements in the vestry!"

Almost equal to the report of six firsts in a peal is the performance at Brinklow, Warks. Here in a peal of Doubles there were five first peals and the remaining ringer was scoring his first as conductor. Congratulations!

The ringers in Dublin are very pleased to welcome Cyril and Ann Galbraith (with three ringing sons) to Dublin from Limerick and have his eldest son, David (14) to start by calling a quarter peal. They would like to wish them many happy ringing years in Dublin.

Over 200 tickets have been sold for the Ancient Society of College Youths' dinner on November 2nd. We hear the Society has rung another peal of Stedman Cinques—this time at Saffron Walden, conducted by Robert E. J. Dennis.

90th ANNIVERSARY OF ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL BELLS

Today, Friday, November 1st, is the 90th anniversary of the dedication of the ring of 12 bells at St. Paul's Cathedral. Although the north-west tower in which the bells hang was completed in the early years of the 18th century, the tower for a long time contained only one bell, cast in about 1705 and weighing a little over a ton, note E flat. This bell was chimed or rung before services and is still rung for five minutes before all week-day services.

The money to provide the present ring of 12 was given by the Corporation of London, various of the City Livery Companies and Baroness Burdett Coutts, and the bells were cast by John Taylor and Co. at Loughborough to the designs (it is said) of Lord Grimthorpe. At that time their total weight was greater than that of any other ring of bells.

The dedication of the new bells took place after Evensong on All Saints' Day, 1878, and was performed by the Bishop of London in the ringing chamber. An account of the dedication which appeared in the "Daily Chronicle" on November 2nd, 1878, concludes by saying that after the Benediction, "the ringers set to, sounding out a merry peal of clear notes as the clergy and choir, having performed their office, retraced their steps below, leaving Dr. Stainer, the organist, to give his final instructions as to the ringing." Perhaps this statement can be read as confirmation of the story that it was Dr. Stainer who, having heard various methods rung on the bells, decided that Stedman Cinques was the most musical, and ordained that that was what should be rung on Sundays, as has been done ever since.

LONGPARISH RINGERS' RETURN TRIP TO MANCHESTER

Frank Tonge, of Longparish, excelled himself when he got his mini-coach load of ringers out of bed at 4 a.m., departing at 4.30 for another visit to Manchester.

Ringling at Walsall (12) took place on the way up. Alan Ward had kindly arranged the Manchester area towers for us and joined us for the day.

Ringling also took place at St. George's, Stockport (10), Oldham (12), Newhey (8), Moorside (8), Whitefield Stand (8), Prestwich (8), Pendlebury (8), Worsley (10) and Dunham Massey (10).

Grandsire Cinques, Stedman Caters, Bob Royal and Cambridge Major were rung during the day and the Bob Major to finish on the difficult bells at Dunham Massey made a fitting climax to a most enjoyable day. Thank you, Frank—until the next one. Home was reached at 2.30 a.m. G.D.

PENZANCE BRANCH FESTIVAL

The Penzance Branch of the Truro Guild of Ringers held their Autumn Festival at Zennor on October 26th, when some 70 ringers attended.

During the service, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. T. S. Hitchens) a course on handbells was rung. The address was given by Canon A. S. Roberts, chairman of the Branch. Tea was provided by the ladies of the church, for which we thank them. After the business meeting ringing continued. Ringers also visited the towers at Carbis Bay and Towendack.

The Spring Festival was provisionally arranged for April 12th, 1969, at Paul. M.C.

A KENT WEDDING

An archway of bell ropes was erected outside St. Mary Magdalene's Church, Stockbury, Kent, for the wedding of two popular members of the Rochester District on September 14th. They were Mr. Richard James Bushell and Miss Pamela Ann Thomsett, both ringers at Stockbury.

ANOTHER BERKSHIRE OCTAVE

On Sunday, November 10th, two new trebles will be dedicated at St. Agatha's, Brightwell-cum-Sotwell, at 6 p.m., by the Bishop of Reading, making a ring of eight. The new bells were cast by the Whitechapel Foundry, as was the ring of six in 1908. One of the bells was a gift to the church by Mr. Jarrett, churchwarden; the other, a donation by the parish and P.C.C., is in memory of Mr. Frank Castell, who for many years was sexton and tower captain.

Mr. B. White was responsible for the construction of a new frame and the hanging of the bells, which is nearly complete. This work has been made possible through the generosity of members of this parish. A. R. D. C.

GUERNSEY BELLS

Two rings of three bells in Guernsey are shortly to receive attention from the Whitechapel Bell Foundry Ltd. Unfortunately neither will be hung for ringing.

At St. Martin's, the unusual chime of three bells, which have been permanently "up" for over 100 years, are at last to be lowered and safely rehung on a steel frame; they will be sounded by clock hammers operated from the existing highly interesting chime barrel, an excellent illustrated description of which is given by Mr. Frederick Sharpe in his "Church Bells of Guernsey, Alderney and Sark." The bells were cast in 1736 by Jean Baptiste Brocard, of Lorraine, France, in place of an older three; the tenor is 36 in. diameter, 81 cwt. in G sharp.

The three bells at Castel, cast by Thomas Mears in 1811, and which Mr. Sharpe was unable to visit, are to be rehung "dead" and chimed from an Ellacombe chiming apparatus; they are a heavy set, tenor 42 in. diameter, 12½ cwt. in F sharp.

"BLASPHEMOUS RINGERS OF YARNTON"

To "The New Advance," the staff journal of the Woolwich Equitable Building Society, Mr. A. B. Palmer, manager of the Oxford Branch, contributes an interesting article headed "Our Six Bells." It is the story of St. Bartholomew's Church, Yarnton, near Oxford.

"The bells were the gift of Sir Thomas Spencer about 1610 and the job was so well done that in the ensuing 350 years only one of the six has needed recasting. Because of their size and difficulty of haulage, it is thought that the bells were cast near the church by a group of itinerant bellfounders. The bells were rung from floor level with ropes 60 to 65 feet long.

"Bellfounding in those days was a strenuous affair and we are told the ringers, whilst noted for their prowess with the bells were also celebrated for drinking and swearing. This led an early 19th century Vicar, the Rev. Vaughan Thomas, to have the screen dividing the tower from the south aisle sound-proofed so that the congregation could not hear the blasphemous conversations. He also had a door cut in the tower so the ringers could leave without going through the church and thereby causing offence to the congregation.

"On his death in 1826 Ald. Fletcher left many bequests to the village and in return the parish clerk had to toll the Great Bell 87 times on January 4th every year, the anniversary of the Alderman's death. The six bells of St. Bartholomew's led someone in 1838 at Lincoln College to write a poem, which began: "Tis winter's eve, the bleak winds blow." A subsequent verse read:

Then, Yarnton, swell thy joyous sounds,
Thy harmony ne'er stay;
Each peal with solemn truth resounds
And speaks a future day."

2,250 PEALS!

Mr. George E. Fearn, the hon. secretary of the St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham, rang his 2,250th peal at Oakham on September 5th during Tom Lock's tour of Leicestershire.

Now 62 years of age, it was not until he had turned 21 years that he rang his first peal, on Boxing Day, 1928. His first 1,000 peals were completed in September, 1953, and his 2,000th on February 26th, 1965. George was the 19th ringer to reach the 1,000 peal mark.

There is only one ringer who has previously rung over 2,000 peals, the late Ernest Morris, whose total was 2,076, and he died on April 28th, 1962.

Nearest to these are William Pye (1,969), George R. Pye (1,878), F. Bennett (1,600), George Williams (1,508), Alfred H. Pulling (1,492), Isaac G. Shade (1,450), all of whom are no longer with us.

Of those ringing, two have passed 1,300—Edward Jenkins and Jack L. Millhouse—followed by H. E. Audsley (1,275). Under favourable circumstances it will be another eight to ten years before another ringer reaches the 2,000 mark. The youngest ringer to join the 1,000 nealers was Peter Border, who was born in 1932. He has now nearly reached 1,200 peals, and if opportunities present themselves he is likely to end up in the 2,000 peals class.
